SAN FRANCISCO IN WHIRL OF MIRTH AND GALA DAY HAPPINESS

Fifty Thousand People Guests of City at Admission Day Celebration.

PARADE IS GORGEOU

Pageant Eclipses Splendid Memories of Great Things of Portola Fete.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Unwearied by a full day of sight seeing and festal merriment, San Francisco and her 50,000 guests continued tonight a strenuous celebration of Admission Day. Thousands who thrilled today with the pride of state and city as they watched a monster parade unfold a panorama of historic pageantry, are tonight joyous with the spirit of carnival and the brilliantly lighted streets swarm with an army of merry-makers.

The sovereignty of Queen Grace was still manifest tonight. Escorted by her court she visited the various parlor headquarters of the Sons and Daughters' organizations. At each of these parlors imposing receptions were held.

The parading public was chiefly interested in tonight in a pyrotechnical display in Union Square and in numerous band concerts at various points of the down-town district. Hundreds thronged the nave of the ferry building where a dance was held from early in the evening until midnight.

PORTOLA ECLIPSED.

The locally famous procession that marked the Portola celebration last year and which was said to have been an epochal event in the history of street parades in this section of the country is generally conceded to have been equalled, if not eclipsed, by the pageant witnessed today. The parade was composed of thirty-five divisions and nearly five hours were consumed in passing a given point.

Twenty thousand Native Sons and Daughters took part in the march and the entourage that acted as guard to Queen California was San Francisco's three premier corps, the California Grays, the Nationals and the Portola Dragoons. Many picturesque floats were seen, the procession as a whole constituting an imposing spectacle that riveted the attention of the vast crowds flanking the route of march from beginning to end.

An elaborate program will be carried out tomorrow.

FINE DAY PARADE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Under smiling skies, the second day of the Admission Day fiesta opened with a combined military and civic parade. Dress uniforms of the regulars, militia and police combined with the gorgeous regalia of the marching parlors made the line of march a riot of color. Besides the Native Sons of the Golden West, there were representatives of almost every fraternal order of the state in the line of march and the parade was one of the most brilliant ever seen here. Everywhere the carnival colors of gold and green formed the background for the resplendent uniforms until the whole color scheme became as variegated as the multi-colored confetti showered upon the spectators from floats in the procession.

The crowds began to gather early, and long before the parade was under way the walks along the line of march became almost impassable. The route was tightly policed, and after the parade was started it proceeded with military precision. In the march to the ferry and back the cavalcade was on the streets more than four hours.

$15,000 ON FLOAT.

Many unique and striking floats were in the procession. Probably the most unusual was provided by Quartz parlor of Grass Valley in the form of a float exhibiting mining specimens valued at $15,000. It was guarded.

Many floats were emblematic of the days of '49, consisting of ox-drawn prairie schooners and lumbering overland stages guarded by picturesque frontiermen against troops of war-bonneted Indians.

The combined parlors of Sonoma county carried a mammoth bear flag through the streets. This banner was 110 feet long by sixty wide and was borne by 200 men. The Sacramento parlors also carried a monster bear flag.

The Nevada City parlor supported a float which illustrated in graphic manner the actual work of the pioneer miners.

Joseph Kramm, eight feet tall in his helmet, headed Piedmont parlor with a team of shetland ponies which drew a golden bear.

Virtually every parlor in the line was accompanied by a band.

The parade was reviewed by Governor Gillett and the grand officers of the Native Sons.

DAUGHTERS IN PARADE.

Much of the color of the pageant was due to the participation of the Native Daughters, who provided the most tastefully decorated floats in the line of march. When Queen California appeared, accompanied by her pretty maids and escorted by the Nationals in their brilliant suave uniforms, she was given a continuous ovation. Many of the Native Daughters chose to march with their brothers, but most of them were represented by floats.

After the parade disbanded, literary exercises were held in Union Square. Addresses were made by Governor Gillett, Daniel A. Ryan, James Rolph, Jr., and Mayor McCarthy and concerts in various city squares completed the day's program.

GEORGIA RETAINS CUP.

NEWPORT NEWS, Sept. 9. The Battenburg cup remains in the possession of the battleship Georgia as a result of the race in Hampton Roads between the twelve officered cutters of the Georgia and the Louisiana.

The Georgia crew won easily. Over $30,000 is said to have changed hands.

THIRTY ARE DROWNED WHEN FERRY STEAMER GOES DOWN

Signals of Wireless Operator Bring Assistance to Sinking Lake Steamer---Two Die in Heroic Attempt at Rescue.

LUDINGTON, Mich., Sept. 9.—Thirty lives were lost today when Pere Marquette ferry No. 18, bound from Ludington to Milwaukee went to the bottom of Lake Michigan.

The dead include Captain Peter Kilty of Ludington; S. F. Sezepanck, of Chicago, purser and wireless operator, whose signals of distress brought assistance to the sinking steamer, and two members of the crew of car ferry No. 17, who lost their lives in an effort to rescue the crew of No. 18.

Ely Colbean of Saginaw, Mich., a member of the crew of No. 18, would make a thirty-first victim, but it is believed he was not on board when No. 18 foundered.

The steamship company issued a list of 45 names of survivors of the wreck, all members of the crew, most of whom were brought here tonight on Pere Marquette No. 17.

Eight bodies were recovered, six being brought here on car ferry No. 17, and two being taken to Milwaukee on car ferry No. 20.

The boat was valued at $400,000 and the cargo, which included twenty-nine loaded cars, at $100,000 to $150,000.

The total loss will exceed $500,000, fully covered by insurance in Lloyds in England.

"SINKING—HELP!"

"Car Ferry No. 18 sinking—help", was the C. Q. D. wireless message that brought the first news of the disaster to this city at 5 o'clock this morning.

The flash was repeated continually for nearly an hour, but was unsigned.

Supt. Mercereau, of the Pere Marquette Car Ferry line, received a wireless from Car Ferry No. 17 at 7:30 a. m., stating that No. 18 had sunk at 7 o'clock.

The lost car ferry carried a crew of fifty men, and had on board two women passengers, said to be from Saginaw.

At this hour the cause of the accident is unknown and the facts may not be available until No. 17 arrives here late today.

Marine men are utterly at a loss to account for the disaster. No. 18 was one of the finest and most costly ferries ever built on the Great Lakes and only yesterday the craft was inspected by government officials at this port and found to be in first-class condition in every respect. This was her first trip on regular run after returning from Chicago, where the big car ferry was under charter to a Chicago company, being run in the excursion business between Chicago and Waukegan during most of July and August.

CAUSE A MYSTERY

The cause of the disaster is a mystery. Among the survivors the conclusion seems to be that the car ferry's after water compartment filled through an open or broken deadlight, which was followed at the last minute by the bursting of bulkheads.

Leaving Ludington last night at 11:30 with a stiff wind and carrying twenty-nine loaded cars, the ferry made good headway for five hours on its course to Milwaukee.

At 4:30 o'clock, word was sent to Captain Peter Kilty that his boat was rapidly making water aft, and that the pumps were unable to keep even with the inflow. Kilty headed his ship with all speed toward Sheboygan on the Wisconsin shore, and as the water gained nine cars were dropped off the stern of the ferry to lighten her, but this gave the vessel only temporary relief.

At 7:30 a. m. the boat's buoyancy could no longer sustain it. Suddenly the great bow rose high in the air, the stern settled swiftly, and with a roar and crash of bursting decks and bulkheads the ship shot downward and was lost to view. Agonizing cries for help rose above the roar of the sea. In a twinkling twenty-seven lives were snuffed out.

HERIOC RESCUES.

Lowering one of her lifeboats containing four sailors, the crew of No. 17 began a work which marks many of the number as heroes. As the lifeboat touched the waves it was hurled against the side of the steamer and crushed.

Two of the sailors were rescued by those on board. The others immediately sunk.

Others quickly manned a lifeboat, which was launched.

It was a race against time and in the face of great danger.

Meantime the tug A. A. C. Tessley, a steamer and a tug from Sheboygan towing the Sheboygan life-saving crew, arrived. They instituted a thorough search for survivors and bodies and succeeded in picking up seven of the former and eight of the latter.

BROWNE ACQUITTED OF CHARGE THAT HE GAVE BRIBE TO WHITE

Emotional Scene in Court Follows Announcing of the Verdict.

Lorimer Silent When He Hears News, Connected With His Election.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Attorney Lee O'Neil Browne of Ottawa, Ill., legislative minority leader, charged with bribery in connection with the election of William Lorimer of Chicago to the United States Senate, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Kersten's division of the criminal court today.

The jury, which took eight ballots, was out twenty-one hours. On the first ballot, the jury stood eight to four for acquittal. The final juror standing out for conviction was won over to sign the verdict of acquittal at 2:35 o'clock in the afternon. The verdict was returned in open court a few minutes before 3 o'clock.

Imediately, the court room was in an uproar. It was ten minutes before the bailiffs stopped the cheering.

Browne was lunching at a downtown hotel when he received a telephone message informing him that the jury had arrived at a verdict. He scrambled into an automobile and was whisked to the court, arriving in time to hear the verdict. His eyes filled with tears as the clerk finished the reading. A second later, he threw his arms about Attorney Charles E. Erbstein of counsel for the defense. Browne was then hoisted to the shoulders of friends and carried out of the court room amid handshaking and cheering.

FORGETS OTHER CHARGE.

Browne appeared as greatly pleased as though he had been completely absolved from further trouble in regard to the Senator Lorimer election. Apparently he had forgotten that he is under indictment on the same charge and will have to face trial at Springfield in Sangamon county.

"I owe my life to the lawyers who defended me," he exclaimed. "It is all due to their unswerving and absolute devotion to me. I thank them from my heart."

States' Attorney Wayman was plainly put out by the verdict. At first he refused to talk. Later he made the following statement:

"The verdict speaks for itself; the public knows the evidence. I presented the evidence and did everything that a public prosecutor could do. The state of Illinois will reap the benefit of the prosecution regardles of the verdict. I have nothing further to say."

The verdict in the Browne case came as a dramatic aftermath to yesterday's sensational incident between Colonel Roosevelt and Senator Lorimer regarding the Hamilton Club banquet.

LORIMER SILENT.

Senator Lorimer was attending a meeting of the directors of the La Salle street Bank, when work was given him concerning the verdict.

Lorimer read the message and tore it up and continued his remarks to the directors.

The senator left the bank for home without discussing the matter and refused to make any statement regarding it.

The second trial of Browne was begun August 1 and has been stubbornly contested. One of the remarkable features was the summoning of nine venires of 100 men each before the jury was secured.

DETAILS OF CHARGES.

The basis of the indictment against Browne was that he had bribed Representative Charles A. White of O'Fallon, Ill., his colleague on the Democratic side of the Illinois general assembly, to vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator at the close of the dead-locked session of the last state legislature.

Browne was specifically charged with having paid $850 to White in the Briggs House in Chicago after having given him $150 in Springfield.

The charges, which were incorporated in a confession by Representative White, started a state-wide investigation of alleged legislative corruption. Browne, who is a candidate in his home district for a seat in the next legislature faces another indictment voted by the Sangamon county grand jury in Springfield and based on the same allegations of having bribed representative White.

COMMITTEEMEN FOR OUSTING BALLINGER

Four Democrats of Investigation Committee Declare Him Untrue to Trust---Madison, Republican, Says, "Should Not Be Retained."

HEARING ENDS IN SPLIT; REPUBLICANS DO NOT ATTEND SESSION AND MAKE NO REPORT

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 9.—"That Richard A. Ballinger has not been true to the trust reposed in him as Secretary of the Interior, that he is not deserving of public confidence and that he should be asked by the proper authorities to resign his office."

The foregoing sums up the findings of the four Democratic members of the Ballinger-Pinchot Congressional investigating committee, made public late today. The Republican members issued no report.

An independent report was given out by Madison, the Insurgent Republican from Kansas, which declares also that Ballinger "should not be retained; that he was an unfaithful trustee of the people's interest, an enemy of conservation," and that the charges of Gifford Pinchot should be sustained.

These findings will be printed and filed with Congress.

The decision of the four Democratic members and Madison to make the reports public followed an unusual session.

Three Republican members, Senator Sutherland of Utah, and Representative McCall of Massachusetts and Denby of Michigan, refused to attend the meeting. Finally the chairman of the committee himself, Senator Nelson of Minnesota, left the committee room and failed to return.

Chairman Nelson gave notice that a meeting would be held in Chicago next Tuesday. Democratic members adjourned to meet again in Washington on December 3rd.

Representative Ollie M. James of Kentucky, one of the Democratic members, announced that all of the Democrats would refuse to attend the meeting of which Senator Nelson has given notice. The Republicans will then be in the same position that the Democrats and Madison found themselves today.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS.

Summarized, the Democratic findings declare that the evidence shows:

"That there was no conspiracy against Ballinger.

"That Gifford Pinchot and L. R. Glavis were faithful trustees of the people's interests.

"That Mr. Ballinger's conduct on certain occasions was intended to and did have the effect of deceiving the President.

"That Mr. Ballinger's action in having 'clear listed' the so-called Cunningham Alaskan coal lands and ordering them patented showed bad faith.

"That he advocated a bill to validate Alaskan coal claims alleged to be fraudulent.

"That his action in acting as attorney in cases pending in the land office while he was commissioner was reprehensible.

"That he helped to force the Cunningham coal claims to a hearing before the government was ready to proceed.

"That he encouraged insubordination in the reclamation service and condoned improper official conduct in that connection."

Numerous official acts of Ballinger are attacked. High praise is given Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester, and L. R. Glavis, former chief of field division of the general land office.

MADISON CONCLUSIONS.

Madison's conclusions are:

"That the charges of Mr. Glavis and Mr. Pinchot should be sustained.

"That he has been unfaithful to the public interests.

"That in the matter of the Cunningham coal lands he was not a faithful trustee of the people's interests.

"That with regard to the reclamation service he has taken action tending towards its disintegration."

A resolution adopted by the Democrats and by Madison provides for publication of the findings. When Senator Nelson left the committee room, Senator Fletcher was made chairman pro tem, and members present proceeded with their work.

The findings of the Democrats and Madison also were filed with the secretary of the committee. A summary of the report follows:

Madison's report also was filed with Siemann.

EXPECTS 11 PRESENT.

Upon the assembling of the committee, Chairman Nelson said he desired to inform them that Denby arrived yesterday morning and that Olmstead would arrive this evening, and that he had received word from Senator Root that he could be here next Tuesday. This, he said, would bring together eleven of the twelve members of the committee.

In view of this fact, he suggested either of two alternatives, that they agree to meet here next Tuesday, or as Senator Root can reach Chicago Monday and as all but two members of the committee will pass through Chicago on their way home, a meeting of the committee be held in Chicago next Monday.

Nelson said he was exceedingly anxious to dispose of the matter as soon as possible.

A roll call disclosed no quorum, and Senator Nelson said no business could be transacted.

Madison protested against the action of the chairman as arbitrary and unfair, and moved that the absent committeemen be brought in. The four Democrats and Madison voted for it, Nelson not voting.

THROWS OUT MOTION.

Nelson declined to put a motion of James that Ivan Bowen be appointed sergeant-at-arms, on the ground that as a quorum was not present, the motion was out of order. Nelson said Bowen has not been and is not acting as sergeant-at-arms of the committee.

Madison then moved that the secretary of the committee be empowered to notify the absentees to appear at the committee room at once and that upon their failure to come, he arrest and bring them in. The motion was adopted by the five members.

Secretary Siemann notified Messrs. Sutherland and McCall and Representative Denby to appear at the committee room, but declined to execute the order that they be arrested, as under the resolution authorizing the investigation there was no such authority.

The three gentlemen mentioned made the following reply:

"In view of the refusal of a minority of the committee Wednesday to postpone action until the members of the committee known to be coming could arrive at Minneapolis and their evident purpose to attempt to make the action of a minority the official action of the committee without consideration and their refusal to discuss the evidence at former meeting; and in view of the fact that at the former meeting they promulgated to the public their decision of the case which had no validity whatever as official action, and yet amounted to a conclusive prejudgment of the case as far as said minority were concerned, we insist upon an opportunity for the full membership of the committee to decide the case which was submitted to them by law and we must therefore decline the invitation of the gentlemen assembled to meet with them today."

DENIES STATEMENT.

Madison then offered the following resolution:

"That Mr. Siemann be instructed to communicate to Senator Sutherland and Representatives McCall and Denby that the statement that any member or members of the committee refused to discuss the evidence at issue is absolutely incorrect. If Senator Sutherland and Representatives McCall and Denby had remained in the committee room as was their duty, we would have then discussed the evidence and today would be discussing the evidence if they desired and willing now to discuss it.

"That in view of the fact they left the room without any request to discuss the evidence and in view of the fact that the chairman's stand that discussion was in order and they did not attempt to discuss the case or indicate a desire to do so, we feel it is their duty now to come into the meeting and deliberate upon the evidence if they desire to discuss it and that the members who are present will gladly discuss any matter pending before the committee.

"No report has been formulated and the question of what the report shall contain is a matter now up for deliberation and discussion."

MOTION GOES THROUGH.

Senator Nelson said he was of the opinion that inasmuch as a quorum was not present the only motion that could be entertained was either a motion to adjourn or motions to secure the attendance of the committee. He said that inasmuch as the motion just offered related to the matter of securing the attendance of the members the chair would put the motion. The five members voted for it.

Madison moved to take a recess until 2:30 o'clock and the motion was seconded by James. The chairman repeated that there was no quorum and that the motion therefore was not in order.

Madison asked if the chair held that only a motion to adjourn sine die could be considered.

Nelson said he would not object to some one else putting the motion, but he thought it was not in order and he would not put it. He based his refusal on the ground of a quorum not being present, the only two motions that could be entertained were motions to adjourn and to compel the attendance of absent members.

The discussion revolved about parliamentary usage in which the members sought to commit the chairman to an expression of opinion. Nelson said he would not commit himself until he had consulted the rules as to his powers.

"I think I shall retire," he said.

ABSENTEES ADAMANT.

Nelson remained until the secretary could deliver the contents of the Madison resolution. The three absentees refused to modify their former communication or add anything to it. Thereupon Nelson left the room.

The notification given out by Chairman Nelson that a meeting would be held in Chicago next Tuesday and request for attendance were sent to all the members here. The five members continued their deliberations.

Secretary Siemann of Washington, D. C., remained in the committee room. Senator Fletcher of Florida was made chairman pro tem. The resolution offered by Senator Purcell of North Dakota was then adopted by the five members. It follows:

"Whereas this committee, pursuant to adjournment, met at 10 o'clock of this day with Chairman Nelson in the chair and six members present including the chairman.

"Whereas there are three other members of the committee, to wit: Senator Sutherland and Representatives McCall and Denby, in the city and the building in which the committee is meeting; and

"Whereas all possible effort has been made without effect to induce said

"NEW NATIONALISM" IS DEFENDED BY ROOSEVELT IN ADDRESS

Declares More Governmental Power Needed Against Rings of Wealth.

LIKES APPOINTMENTS

In Ohio Speech, Commends Taft's Naming Holmes and Hadley.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—Former President Roosevelt defended his doctrine of "New Nationalism" in a speech at the Ohio Valley Exposition today. He also commended President Taft for his appointments of two public officers.

Colonel Roosevelt's day in Cincinnati was one of the quietest he has had on his Western tour. There were no bands to meet him, and the people of Cincinnati had not a chance to see him, except when he was at the exposition grounds in the afternoon. The colonel's tour has been a severe one and it was on his own request that the program of the day was simplified.

The colonel left the train at Terrance Road station, a suburb, and spent the morning at the home of Congressman Longworth, his son-in-law. Then he went to the exposition grounds and looked at the exhibits, attended a luncheon, and delivered an address in the Music Hall.

Returning to the Longworth home, he held a reception.

George B. Cox, leader of the Republican party of Cincinnati, [illegible] and met Colonel Roosevelt.

After dinner the colonel went to the opera at the exposition grounds. He spent the night at the Longworth home, but to leave early tomorrow morning [illegible] winding up his Western trip [illegible] morning.

POWER VS. WEALTH.

Colonel Roosevelt in defending "New Nationalism" replied to those who oppose his plan of increasing the power of the central government for the purpose of dealing with conservation, the control of corporations and other question. "They say, 'do not give the government too much power,'" he said. "Certainly not; I do not want to give the government any more power than is necessary. You would not have to have so much power in the national givernment if you were dealing with individuals, none of whom were very rich, but when you get an aggregation of rich individuals you must master them through the government.

"Some of the people will say that interferes with individualism. It does not. It is giving the government a chance. The individual has no chance if you permit a business monopoly to be established or permit it to develop so that a single man is powerless against it or can be crushed by it. Under the law there has grown up a system of enormous monopoy which, in fact, is the very negation of individualism, and the government is required to regulate these great concerns to permit the average individual citizen to retain his rights unimpaired.

"I am not speaking in hostility to corporations. I recognize the need of the great corporations as a necessary instrument in modern individualism."

ENDORSES APPOINTMENTS.

Colonel Roosevelt endorsed the appointment by President Taft of President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale University at head of the commission to investigate the capitalization of railroads, and of Joseph A. Holmes as chief of the Bureau of Mines.

After saying that men appointed to do work for the benefit of the people should be chosen without regard to political affiliations, he continued:

"We have a Bureau of Mines, and President Taft has recently appointed as the head of that bureau the best man that possibly could have been chosen to fill the place—Mr. Holmes, a man I know from his professional work although I don't know his politics.

"I am exceedingly glad that the President has appointed a man like Mr. Hadley of Yale to look into the question of railroad capitalization. You will find some owrthy people who are willing to have the government look into this question of capitalistaion, but they want it left to the states to deal with.

"There is an instance of two railroads that run from Minnesota westward to Puget Sound, and they are violating the laws of the Federal government and flouting the laws of the states through which they run. The government started to bring suit against them. It was at once contended that it was a matter for the states, but while the railroads ran through Minnesota, North Dakota, Idaho and Washington, they were incorporated in New Jersey and have not a single mile of track within 100 miles of New Jersey.

NO OTHER WAY.

"There is only one power that could deal with that kind of a corporation, and that is the national government. There is only one power that can deal with big business carried on interstate lines, and that is the national government. Anything that can be dealt with by the states, I favor dealing within that way. But big business is now centralized and we have to centralize the authority to control it.

Colonel Roosevelt also referred to efforts that had been made to obtain deepr waterways throughout the country. He said:

"One of the greatest [illegible] in the development of our waterways hitherto has been the tendency of Congress each year to apportion a number of pieces of work, not in accordance with any one well settled scheme, but in accordance with the exigencies. . . rather in accordance with the declamatory efforts of claimants and the persuasory efforts of the representatives of the several localities desiring them."

CITRUS MEN START FIGHT UPON ICING

Produce Evidence of Over-Expense in Handling Fruit Shipments.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 9.—Before Commissioner Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission, attorneys for the citrus fruit shippers of Southern California today began their legal attack upon the transcontinental railways in the matter of icing shipments of fruit consigned to the long haul across the country.

The shippers contend that the railroad charge of from $60 to $75 per car for icing is exorbitant. They ask the commission to compel the railroads to allow them to pre-cool their own fruit and ice their own cars for shipment. They charge that the railroads do not pre-cool the fruit properly before putting it in the cars and that the icing is improperly done, so that it has to be re-iced en route to the East, thus adding to the expense of shipment. The railroads enter a general denial and assert they are doing the best that can be done with fruit shipments.

MAKE TESTS PUBLIC.

The result of a series of tests authorized some months ago by the commission were made known in testimony before Commissioner Prouty today. In these tests, careful note was made of the amount of ice required and the condition of the fruit in shipments where both the railroad companies and the shippers iced the cars. The results were said to be confirmatory of the claims of the shippers.

The railroads claimed that sixteen tons of ice were necessary to ship a car of citrus fruit to Chicago and the shippers contended that nine tons were sufficient. The tests showed that ten tons was the amount required. Figures submitted showed that fruit pre-cooled by the shippers themselves went through in better shape than that pre-cooled by the railways, it was claimed.

MAKE T. R.'s PROGRAM.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 9.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's program in St. Louis, October 11th, was completed today by Governor Hadley and politicians from St. Louis. In the morning he will be the guest of the Business Men's League, in the afternoon talk to students in Central high school and in the evening he will deliver a political address in the Coliseum. The night speech will be under the auspices of the Republican state and city committees. Colonel Roosevelt in accepting the invitation asked Governor Hadley if he wanted a political speech.

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 9.—A fire of unknown origin partly destroyed four buildings of the Hitchcock Military Academy this afternoon, causing a loss of $16,000. The students are encamped on the school reservation near Monterio.

PROTESTS FOLLOW LORIMER INCIDENT

Friends of Senator Roosevelt Snubbed May Disrupt Club.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The Hamilton club, which has prided itself on being the banner Republican club of the nation, was greatly wrought up today as a result of the Roosevelt-Lorimer incident yesterday.

Senator Lorimer has a host of friends in the membership of the club and from these men came ramblings of revolt. They said they were anxious to rebuke President Batten for having accepted Colonel Roosevelt's ultimatum regarding the banquet. The senator's friends asserted that they were only waiting the cue from Mr. Lorimer and if he resigned his membership in the club they would do likewise. So far he has not given the word and has refused to talk on the subject.

Senator Lorimer's friends with considerable effort maintained silence today when asked by newspapermen for interviews bearing on the situation. They then relieved themselves by expressing their personal views on the incident and every Rooseveltian, in words extremely torrid.

BIG FISH SHIPPER VICTIM OF THUGS

Capt. Blom Found in Park With His Throat Badly Slashed.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 9.—Captain T. D. Blom, prominent in shiping circles and head of a cod fish company, was found today in Wright Park, in the heart of the city, with his throat cut. He probably will die. He closed a big deal yesterday, selling a schooner load of cod fish to a San Francisco firm. It is believed he was attacked by a robber while on his way to the home of a friend.

The attack is supposed to have been made some time before midnight and Blom is believed to have lain in the park all night. When found this morning his condition was desperate. Several square feet of sod was covered by his blood and there were indications of a struggle.

FRANCE PICKS MEN TO REGAIN AIR SUPREMACY

PARIS, Sept. 9.—France's representation at the International Aviation at Belmont Park race track, where it hopes to regain the blue ribbon of the air, has been definitely arranged. Alfred Leblanc, Humbert Latham and Leon Morane, will compete for the international championship trophy now held by Glenn H. Curtiss.

In addition, the French aero club sends Auburn and Count Jacques De Lesseps to compete for other prizes.

Italy will send Signor Cattano and Belgium probably will delegate M. Olieslagers to take part. Neither Spain nor Switzerland will be represented.

RAIN STOPS EUCHARISTICS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—The open-air ceremonies in connection with the Eucharistic Congress, which were to be held today, were postponed until tomorrow because of a heavy rainfall.

URGE GIVING FAIR TO SAN FRANCISCO

Legislature Ends Its Business With Resolutions to Congress.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—With the adoption today of a joint resolution urging Congress to name San Francisco as the site of the exposition in 1915 which will commemorate the opening of the Panama Canal, the special session of the legislature called to provide a way for the raising of $10,000,000 for the project, finished its labors at noon.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, The completion of the Panama Canal will mark the end of the greatest engineering feat of modern times, whereby the waters of the Atlantic are wedded to the waters of the Pacific, the trade and commerce of the Occident is given equal access to the trade and commerce of the Orient, and they ar both enabled to share the products of each other, and

Whereas, It brings the Pacific coast of the United States into closer union with the Atlantic coast and adds another link to the bonds that bind the states of our nation into inseparable union and opens up new fields for the employment of the industry, skill, capital and labor of the people of our country, and

Whereas, It is eminently fit and proper that the completion of such a gigantic work as that performed by American engineers and American capital should be fitly commemorated, and

SAN FRANCISCO PROPER PLACE.

Whereas, The city of San Francisco, the metropolis of the Pacific coast of the United States, is the only and proper place for such an exposition, because of its geographical location and because of the fact that it faces countries that are desired to be brought into union with the Eastern world, and

Whereas, The state of California is willing to and will appropriate the sum of five million dollars to assist in defraying the expenses of the celebration and the city of San Francisco has, through the liberality, unexampled, of its citizens, contributed the sum of seven million, five hundred thousand dollars, and will by vote raise a further sum of five million dollars by tax in the city, making in all the magnificent sum of seventeen million, five hundred thousand dollars, and

Whereas, the efforts of the people in that direction should be recognized and rewarded by those in authority; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the legislature of the state of California earnestly asks the Congress of the United States to pass the resolution introduced by Hon. Julius Kahn, member of Congress from San Francisco as the proper and appropriate place for the holding of said celebration and exposition.

GRIM REAPER STOPS FORTY-NINE REUNION

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Owing to depletion of their rank by death and inability of the few remaining members to attend on account of feebleness, the annual reunion of "Forty-Niners," usually held September 9th, California's "Admission Day," has been called off today. Another reunion is scheduled for "Discovery Day," in January, but it is doubtful if the meeting is held.

The youngest of the members surviving is George W. Hotchkiss, secretary, and he reluctantly admitted yesterday that he was unable to take charge of a convention owing to feeble health. It is believed that thirty of the members of the association are alive, but few answered the call sent out for them this year. In the last year one of the members of the executive committee has died.

MURDER MYSTERY IN SKELETON IN WOODS

SEATTLE, Sept. 9.—The skeleton of a man which had been in the woods for two or three years was found lying in the thicket half a mile from the Riverside station, on the interurban line south of Seattle, yesterday by Edward Oakes, who was returning from a hunting trip. The police believe that the man was murdered.

No weapon was found to indicate that the man ended his own life, and from the position of the clothing Coroner James C. Snyder is led to believe that the body was dragged all the way from the road.

One shoe was missing and the coat was found under a log fairly well preserved.

There was a hole in the left side of the vest which the coroner believes might have been made by a bullet.

The dead man wore a brown suit, a fancy brown vest and a blue shirt. The shoes were heavy.

CHOLERA ON DECREASE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—The cholera epidemic continues to claim thousands of victims, but encouragement is found in the reports of the sanitary bureau, which of late have shown a steady falling off in the total of cases.

During the week of August 28 to September 3, there were 9,899 new cases, with 4,405 deaths against 15,659 new cases and 7,590 deaths in the week previous. The total for the season is 170,362 cases and 77,458 deaths.

STORK COUNTY EMBLEM.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 9.—Official recognition of the anti-race suicide tendencies of the people of Tulsa county, where the birth rate since statehood was established has overwhelmingly exceeded the death rate, was taken today when the county commissioners adopted the stork as the emblematic bird of the county. A heroic statue of the Rooseveltian bird will adorn the facade of the new court house, which is to be built at once.

TO WARD OFF STRIKES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. — To guard against further strikes in the cloak and suit trade in New York City, a joint grievance committee of four has been appointed by the Cloak and Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association, and the Cloak and Suit Makers' Union to settle all disputes which may arise in any factory in accordance with the terms of settlement of the recent strike.

TOPEKA, Sept. 9.—Word was received by telephone tonight from E. S. Cole that he and H. Cole and H. Honeywell, who went up in a balloon at dark last night, landed at 10 a. m. today ten miles north of Panther, Okla.

The distance from here to Panther is 265 miles. The trip was made at the rate of a fraction over eighteen miles an hour.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Sept. 9.—It was announced here today that Governor Haskell would reply to the Ossawatomie speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Lawton, Okla., September 15th.

matter of waterways improvement, he said, was the appointment of men of unquestioned integrity, who would act in the interest of the whole people.

Colonel Roosevelt had a fight with the crowds when he tried to make the rounds of the exposition grounds. Everywhere he went he was followed by a throng of spectators which the police were not able to control.

More than 100 persons attended the reception at Longworth's home in the afternoon. After dinner Colonel Roosevelt stopped in at the lodge rooms of the Order of Railway Firemen and went to the opera.

"WIFE CAUSED IT ALL," SAYS ACCUSED THIEF

"Husband to Blame," Declares Woman Who Met Spouse in Cafe.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 9.—Blaming the woman he married in San Francisco in 1908 for his downfall, W. C. Mair, alias "Billy" Mansfield, in jail here on a charge of swindling a Los Angeles woman out of valuable jewelry, this afternoon admitted he was a deserter from the United States navy and stated also that his brother is the private secretary of Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, Mass.

Mair says he came to the Pacific Coast in 1908 as chief electrician on the battleship Alabama. He says he met the woman, now his wife, at a noted cafe in San Francisco, was married to her and through her efforts was transferred to the supply ship Arethusa. Eight months afterwards, he says, she induced him to desert from the navy.

His statement was made to the sheriff at the county jail but it is doubtful if he will be claimed by the navy department until after he has been tried in the civil courts. Mrs. Mair is in jail and is blaming her husband for the entire affair. It is probable both will be tried at the same time.

MAN IS CRUSHED BY ST. FRANCIS ELEVATOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—In full view of scores of persons who were enjoying the program in celebration of Admission Day, Lloyd R. McGinnis of this city was caught between the roof of the elevator cage and the door of the mezzanine floor at the St. Francis hotel tonight and probably fatally crushed. Women fainted and the men were powerless to give their aid. Both McGinnis' arms and legs were fractured, his scalp was partly torn off and he has a possible fracture of the skull.

The elevator in which McGinnis was riding, accompanied by his brother, was crowded and was descending from the top floor rapidly when the accident happened. The clothing of McGinnis, who was standing nearest the front of the cage, caught in the door when one floor from the bottom and in another instant his body was wedged by the top of the car.

CHEATED BY UNDERTAKERS, HAS COFFIN MADE TO ORDER

MILWAN, Mo., Sept. 9. — George Brandon, who lives near here, believes he was cheated on two occasions when he bought coffins from undertakers for members of his family, so he is having a carpenter make him a casket for himself to orded.

Brandon came here yesterday, climbed into the coffin and expressed himself as satisfied with the fit of it.

Although Brandon is now in perfect health, he desires to run no chance of his estate being bilked in the purchase of a casket after he is dead.

Washington Please Take Notice.

The municipal service of Paris is at last thinking of granting fewer permissions for the erection of statues all over the city. Its first step toward this reform will be to demand a model of the proposed monument to be approved by a commission of artists, for hitherto the sculptor's design was not examined prior to acceptation of the proposal and space was granted without further question if the person to be honored was considered worthy.

A municipal counsellor whose opinion carries some weight has suggested that most of the ugly and very unnecessary modern statuary which fills all the gardens of Paris and crowds the population off the pavements in the streets and public squares be removed to the new gardens which are about to be laid out on the former fortifications, and the grounds, being designed with a view to holding them, will not be disfigured as are the Parc Monceau, the Luxumbourg, the Place du Carrousel, the Champs Elysees, and the Cours la Reine, which were not planned for them.—From the Queen.

CARDS ARE ISSUED FOR MISS NICHOLS' WEDDING AT DINUBA

High School Attendance This Year Promises to be a Record Breaker.

Successful Experiment Is Made in Shipping Calimyrnas to Chicago.

DINUBA, Sept 9—Cards were issued yesterday announcing the nuptials of Miss Gretchen Nichols and Mr. Charles Roy Whittington of this city, at the Christers, on the evening of Saturday, the 17th. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr and Mrs W B. Nichols of this city, while her prospective husband is the proprietor of the Dinuba Electrical Works and son of Dr and Mrs. W. Whittington of this city. Miss Nichols is a violinist of marked ability and has often been heard in recitals in Dinuba and Fresno. The wedding which is to take place at the home of the bride's parents, will be a largely attended affair. The secret of the engagement has been suspected for some time, and now that the announcement has been made, they are being showered with congratulations. The approaching wedding is the subject of much interest in this city.

The opening of the school year here next Monday has brought out the fact that there is more than the usual interest being taken in the local high this year. The school is a joint one, and the attendance has been about 100 during the term, but the registration this week indicates that there will be a very large attendance of outside students during the year, and with the regular attendance from town, the school will have a record year. Principal Simons has been busy registering and arranging the work for the new entries, and the opening on Monday will see the assembling of a large enrollment. The faculty this year is much larger and besides Principal A M Simons, who has had the school for two years, will be Miss Paisley, Miss O'Bannon, Mr. Frey, Miss Foster and Charles Carrigan, The latter in charge of the science and manual training departments.

Boxes of Calimyrna figs were shipped from here recently in a car of grapes sent to Chicago as an experiment, and the result was so pleasing that telegrams were received asking for from 30 to 50 boxes in each car that is sent East. The figs were carefully packed and reached the Chicago market in fine condition. They sold well and averaged $1.85 per box. This will amount to about 25 cents per pound for the fruit. It has always been a question whether or not figs could be put into the Chicago markets from here in good condition, but the experiment will be the means of increasing this line of shipping another season.

BATTALION OF MILITANTS ASSEMBLED AT VISALIA FOR A DRILL

Tulare Democrats Will Open the Campaign at Rally This Afternoon.

VISALIA, Sept. 9—Porterville, Visalia and Hanford cantons of the first battalion of the First regiment of the Patriarchs Militant of the Odd Fellows engaged in a battalion drill at Athletic park today. Fresno canton did not attend, Captain Harris having sent word that not a sufficient number of chevaliers could be had to warrant making the trip.

The hour of 10:30 saw the visiting companies on hand and a march was taken to the park, where drill was had under command of Major Henry Newman of this city until noon, when army rations consisting of beans, bread, coffee, "sowbelly," etc., were served. Drill was later resumed until 2 o'clock, when the march back to town was commenced.

The drill was preliminary to the grand encampment of Odd Fellows at Santa Ana next month. I. T. Bell of this city acted as battalion adjutant and M. M. Dale of Porterville, a member of the general staff, was also in attendance.

The personnel of the three cantons present follows:

Canton Porterville—Captain J. H. Partridge, commanding; Lieutenant Nels Baker, Ensign F. M. Singleton and Chevelres Alma Hall, D. E. Burnett, T. J. Crabtree, Frank Jones, Walter Hunath, Antone Estala.

Canton Hanford—Captain A. R. Olmstead, commanding; Lieutenant W. R McKay, Ensign O. S. Dearforff and Chevaliers R. C. Lacey, O. L. Taylor, Pat Sweeney, N. L. Shew, Ben Price, John Weddle, S. T. Owings.

Canton Visalia—Captain George Earnhart, commanding; Lieutenant William Lewis, Ensign A. C. Williams and Chevaliers George Birkenhauer, J. S. Clark, W. F. DeVall, Delbert Dillon, N. C. Dillon, A. E. Brooks, D. R. Griffith and Louis Whitendale.

The annual reunion of the Mexican War Veterans and pioneers of valley counties was held in this city today, the sessions being in the parlors of the First M. E. church. There were only twelve in attendance and the time was spent largely in listening to reminiscences of early days. John Tuohy of Goshen presided with Rev. A. L. Baier as secretary.

It was voted to make such as had come to this state in 1860 or before eligible to membership, whereas the limit had been 1852. A year ago it was voted to admit the sons and daughters of veterans and pioneers, but none of these were in attendance today.

The names of five members who had died during the year were read. They were: J. M. Fowel, J. F. Brooks, E. Z. Callison, Mrs. McKee and I. N. Wright.

At noon an adjournment was taken to the American hotel, where a spread was partaken of.

Those present at the meeting include: David Campbell of Porterville, T. H. Allen of Lemoore, Rev. and Mrs. Leech and John Tuohy of Tulare, Judge W. H. Wallace, Mrs. E. A. Lindsay, C. Van Loan, A. J. Lefever, Rev. A. L. Baker, W. Spence and J. H. Huntley of this city.

A rally of Democratic candidates will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Grand theater in this city, following a meeting of the county central committee at the office of Justice Clark at 1:30. At this rally the first gun of the campaign will be fired. The county platform will be discussed and various phases of the campaign in general. Maurice E. Power, prominent local attorney, will make the principal address and the candidates will make five or ten minute speeches.

A case that may develop seriously is reported from Tulare this afternoon. A ranch hand, said to be half witted, was riding with the wife of his employer, a Swede, the latter having permitted him to drive to town with her. When out of sight of the house the man made indecent proposals. The woman, being in a delicate state of health, jumped from the vehicle and fell heavily. She is under a doctor's care and it is feared is seriously hurt. The name of the man is given as Earness or Ernst, but the name of the woman was not learned. The ranch is stated to be the Hunsaker farm near Tulare. The fellow was arrested. What charge will be placed against him is not stated.

E. I. Feemster, the attorney, has returned from Los Angeles, where he suffered an attack of appendicitis. He is improving.

REPUBLICANS OPEN THE PORTERVILLE CAMPAIGN ON THE 20TH

Grading on P. N. E. R. R. Is Completed to Border of Reservation.

Game Is So Plentiful, Venison Is Staple Diet Article at the Resorts.

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 9—Porterville Republicans plan to open the campaign here this fall with a mass meeting to be held on the evening of September 20th. There will be present on the platform, all the candidates for county offices, as well as George C. Wyllie of Dinuba, candidate for the Assembly and one or two speakers of state-wide renown, who will be asked to discuss the state reforms for which the party stands. Judge Daggett, of Visalia, who is the candidate of the Republicans for the office of county judge, is at work upon and will deliver on that evening, a speech upon the proposed reform of the criminal law. Mr. Daggett believes in this reform only when the reformers have something to offer of a definite nature to take its place. And his address will be along these lines. Mr Wyllie will discuss the state platform. He is an Insurgent Republican of the deepest dye and insists upon that appelation in preference to that of "Progressive." Liberal advertising of the meeting will be done and the committee in charge hopes that the result will be a good attendance.

At the Porterville Union high school building this morning was held a meeting of the faculty of the school, and a discussion of the work for the coming year. It is the hope of Superintendent Conger that the standard of scholarship for the school may be raised to the point where the Porterville school will be accredited not only with the University of California, but with the leading Eastern schools as well. An exceptionally strong faculty has been engaged for the season. Following are the heads of the various departments: Charles Thompson Conger, superintendent, A. B. and A. M. from Chicago University; Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins, also took post graduate work in England and Germany. Mrs. Frank Hugh Hess, A. M., from the University of Michigan, a post graduate student of the University of Chicago. Miss Louise Duncan, A. B., from University of California, a graduate of the San Jose normal. Frank L. Heil, teacher of manual training, graduate of the Los Angeles Polytechnic, Los Angeles normal and Armour Institute of Technology of Chicago; Miss Esther Benn, A. B., Northwestern University, post graduate student of Madrid University of Spain, and of the Ecole Polytechnique of Paris; Miss Georgette Heney, A. B., from University of Kansas, post graduate of the University of California.

Work of grading for the P. N. E. railroad has been completed from the middle of section 32 to the eastern border of the old reservation. Manager F. C. Nofziger stated this morning that he would do his own work of grading as far as the proposed station at Worth, where the Tule river is to be crossed and that from there to the terminus, a distance of eighteen miles, the work will be let by contract. Cross sectioning of the road and the location surveys were completed this morning and a portion of the force of field engineers was given its release. Six men will remain on the permanent engineering crew of the road to check up on the construction work. It has been estimated that the probable contract price for grading will be upon the basis of about 25 cents per yard for dirt work.

Returning hunting parties from the mountains bring the news that game has not been so plentiful for years as it is this season and it is also stated that the deer are in fine condition. There has been an abundance of feed this season and the bucks are fat and strong. Owing to the fact that the season has been shortened a month in this county, the rutting time is well over before any of the deer may be taken and the meat is much better in consequence. Word comes from the Hot Springs and other hill resorts that venison in abundance is had and that it is the staple article of diet at all the resort hotels.

W. F. Ber, the president of a large syndicate owning apple lands in the North Yakima country, and E. G. Tennant, also a large land owner of the same portion of Washington, are here today to make an inspection of the water systems in use for the irrigation of hillside lands in the Porterville section. Mr Ber states that in the Yakima country, a large proportion of the best lands is either on the hillsides or upon the high table lands. They have had trouble in getting the water to these lands and as this system is in use in this section largely, they expect to benefit by the experience of the local growers.

Robert Horbach has presented to the trustees of the Luther Burbank Park a pair of fine golden eagles which will be the first of a collection of birds and animals to be placed in the public playground. Indians of the reservation have been offered a liberal reward for wild animals such as bear, deer and lions and it is expected that several specimens will be available this fall.

One of the largest real estate deals ever made in this section was completed yesterday when H. S. Bachman, a pioneer Poplar rancher, traded his home place in the Poplar district for a business block on Colorado street in Pasadena. The ranch, consisting of 440 acres was put in at a valuation of $66,000 for the bare land and in addition Mr. Bachman paid $55,000 in cash.

PARLIER PICKINGS

PARLIER, Sept. 9—Raisin picking is well advanced in this vicinity. There is a general belief that there is a serious falling off in the crop as compared with last year. Prices are running about 3½ cents for Muscats and Sultanas and 4 cents for Thompson Seedless. Griffin & Skelley will begin next week stemming on Thompsons.

Alex Wills was discharged by Justice Walton of Sanger setting for Justice Giles. The charge was petit larceny. The case was not proven. Wills was the last of the chicken stealing cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Traber are in San Francisco attending the Admission Day festival. J. F. Hayhurst and wife, Mrs. T. W. Russell and Herbert Ellis are also in the city.

Robert Crockett of Orleans, Ind., are visitors at the home of J. D. Cook, intending to make a stay of about a year.

Edward Jones is packing Malaga grapes in a shed on the winery switch.

ADMISSION DAY CLOSING CAUSES MIX-UP IN REEDLEY

Some of the Stores Opened as Usual and Others Fell Into Line.

Farmers Coming Many Miles to Trade Disappointed.

REEDLEY, Sept. 9—The closing of the stores Admission Day caused a great deal of adverse comment and dissatisfaction in Reedley today. A petition was circulated among the business men Wednesday for the purpose of getting all business houses to close today. The majority of the proprietors signed. However, this morning when it was time to open the stores it was noted by several business men that some of the leading stores were not closed, the lumber yards were still doing business and the farmers were coming to town to do their trading. As a result several of those who signed the petition opened their stores for the day.

The greatest criticism of the closing proposition was from the farmers. They claim it is not doing them justice to close the stores unless the fact is advertised in the newspapers for at least a week in advance. Some of them came a distance of twenty miles to do their trading and claimed an injustice to come that far and find all the business houses closed as well as the banks.

It is suggested by several of the business men that the next time such a proposition is advanced that there will be few signers unless the fact that the stores will be closed can be published at least one week in advance.

J. C. Zachavey & Son, who have been experimenting with Turkish tobacco raising at their farm nine miles north of Reedley for the past year, have harvested their first crop and are greatly encouraged with the results. The tobacco is large-leaved, though a little coarse. Only five acres were planted this year, but more will be put in next year, since it is seen that tobacco culture in the valley is a success. Mr. Zachavey brought in several large leaves today and put them on display in the store of J. J. Moomaw.

Rev. C. L. Hyde, wife and daughter, of Oleander will be the guests of C. F. Howell a part of next week. Rev. Hyde lived in Colorado Springs while Mr. Howell was in college and was one of his closet friends. At the present time Rev. Hyde is pastor of the Congregational church in Oleander.

A. E. Holderman has been notified that he received the nomination for justice of the peace on the Prohibition ticket. Mr. Holderman has decided to make a fight for the office, relying on those who voted for him at the recent primary to cast their votes for him at the election in November.

Miss Media Carrier, instructor of Latin at the Reedley Union High school, has returned home from Berkeley, where she spent her summer vacation. She was accompanied by her father, A. E. Carrier.

T. L. Reed spent a part of the week in San Francisco as a delegate to the Republican state convention.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Reedley First Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. W. Horner Wednesday afternoon, September 14, at 2:30 o'clock. The annual election of officers will be held and other important matters will be considered. All members are urged to attend.

The First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school is making plans for a rally to be held Sunday, September 25. A number of special invitations will be sent out to young people who are not attending Sunday school at the present time and an effort will be made to increase the present large enrollment.

BRIEFS FROM MALAGA

MALAGA, Sept. 9—Next Sunday the evening service at the Baptist church will commence at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8. The service will be one of special interest. The pastor will preach on the subject "Enemies of the Home." Special music has been arranged for. Miss Wall, one of the leading soprano singers in one of the large Pasadena churches will sing a solo. Mr. R. H. La Rue will also sing a solo.

Miss Elizabeth Winans, who has been spending the summer with relatives here and at Selma, left yesterday for Long Beach, where she will visit the family of Frank Strickles, after which she will go to her home in Clifton, Ariz.

Chester Bibb, who has been seriously ill for several days, is slightly better. As soon as it is possible to move him, he will be taken to Fresno where an operation for appendicitis will be performed.

Mr. W. F. McPike of Missouri arrived Saturday on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. R. W. McCann and family. He expects to remain for a short time.

Mr. W. E. Haycraft of Dinuba is the guest of relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. O. W. Moore of Central avenue, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Miss Ona Wall of Pasadena is visiting her brother, E. S. Wall, and family.

ECZEMA TOTALLY COVERED HIS FACE

When a Baby—Hair All Came Out—Always Scratching — Mother Got Cuticura and He was Cured After 3 Years of Disease.

"My son was about four months old when he was taken with dreadful eczema. I had four different doctors but they could not help him. The hair all came out and his face was totally covered. His eyes were shut and we thought he would go blind. His limbs and body were also affected. He was always scratching; I had to keep his little hands tied down and he seemed to have a great deal of pain. We did not know what to do. I used to get sick handling him, from the way the corruption was always running.

"But I got some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a week or ten days I could see the eruption drying up and before long he was cured, after about three years of the terrible disease. Now he is nine-teen years old and has not a sign of the old trouble. You see I learned to save three-quarters of the doctors' bills by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I will recommend either to any one and advise them to use them and receive a safe, speedy cure. Mrs. Catherine Mocklis, Dock St., Royalton, Pa., Feb. 21, 1910."

Cuticura is the most economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring affections of the skin of infants, children and adults. A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

Would You Like to Buy a Hat for $5.00 That Looks Every Bit Like $10.00?

The answer no doubt would be yes, if the hats really looked like ten dollar ones. This, however, we are willing to leave to your own judgment. They are mostly hand made hats, covered in silk and velvet. Some bell shapes, some turbans and some are faced with Persian, beautifully trimmed and the best looking hats we have ever offered at the beginning of any season at such a price. They represent the very newest styles in vogue at the present time and there is a good variety of colors to choose from. They are hats not extreme, but up to date in every way, very becoming—very easily worn.

THE JOKE IS ON DAVE

The joke of the season was Dave Ewing as Reform Democratic candidate for Congress. Unfortunately, Dave saw the point himself, and spoiled the joke by refusing to run.

The point is of course plain enough, and it was natural for Dave (who has no illusions) to see through it at once. The queer thing is that the committee did not see it. Here is a situation in which the only excuse for having a Democratic candidate at all is the supposition of Insurgent opposition to Needham, which might be concentrated on an Insurgent Democratic candidate. It is hardly conceivable that even such a candidate could seriously cut Needham's normal majority, since the Republican opposition to him has never included more than a very small part of the Insurgent forces, and even this opposition would naturally disappear as Mr. Needham's position becomes clear in the discussions of the campaign. But, for whatever it is worth, this is the obvious Democratic strategy—to put up some nominal Democrat, who might appeal to disgruntled Insurgent Republicans, if such there are. This has been the only strategy discussed, and was the policy sought to be represented, more or less plausibly, in the candidacy of Henry Hawson. But Hawson being disqualified, the Democratic committee meets, looks around for an available Insurgent, and lights on—Dave Ewing! No wonder Dave was shocked. Nobody had ever before accused him of being a reformer, and he would have indignantly denied the insinuation if it were made.

Dave is all right—but the wrong sort of right for this job. He is a practical politician, and a very good one, who, during his term as Democratic boss of Fresno, manifested more skill than any other person has ever shown in that position. Even his one fiasco—the foisting of W. Parker Lyon on Fresno—showed his skill, for he did get Parker elected, however much he may have rued the job afterward. He is the attorney for public service corporations, and has the point of view which usually accompanies that employment, including the characteristically special-interest view of the conservation problem. He is a practical Democrat of the old school, and the last man in the world to pose as an insurgent or reformer. Whatever might be his availability for any other office, or for this office any other year, the idea of running him for it now is so ludicrous that even his trained patience could not receive it with a straight face.

No harm is done, so far as Dave is concerned. He won't run, and he won't worry. But how about the poor candidate who may finally have to fall for it? Isn't it unfair to handicap him with the hoodoo of having been chosen by a committee of such demonstrated and pitiful incapacity to see a plain point? Whoever is chosen may in fact be a Progressive Democrat. But the burden will be on him to prove it against the presumption arising from having been chosen by a committee which demonstrably does not know one sort of Democrat from the other.

Really, it is funny. Ask Dave if it isn't; and watch him cachinnate.

DREW QUALIFIED

Following the discovery of the disqualification of Henry Hawson as candidate for Congress, the evening papers undertook to make a point of an alleged technical disqualification of A. M. Drew, Republican candidate for the state Senate. As a matter of fact, there is no analogy whatever between the two cases. The disqualification of Hawson is constitutional, and is such as to prevent him holding the office even if he were elected to it. The alleged disqualification of Drew, even if it existed, was purely formal and technical, and would not prevent him from holding the office. And, as a matter of fact, it is not even technically a valid objection.

It seems that when Mr. Drew went to the county clerk's office to register, he was informed that he was already registered. Afterwards, when he came to vote at the primaries he found that his name was not on the list. Somebody had made a mistake. Of course he had the mistake corrected immediately, and is now registered. Meantime he had made in good faith the candidate's affidavit that he was a qualified elector, had regularly run at the primary election, and is now the regular nominee for the State Senate. The claim is that the accidental omission of his name from the register disqualified him to run at the primaries. Even if this were so, it would not now disqualify him to run at the general election. The point would have to have been made, if at all, in a contest to keep his name off the primary ballot.

It could not have succeeded, even then. The law does not require the candidate to be a qualified elector, but merely requires him to make affidavit that he is one. This Mr. Drew did, in good faith, though it turns out erroneously, so far as being registered is concerned. Furthermore, in Hergevin vs. Curtz (127 Cal., 86) it was decided that a person possessing the qualifications of an elector is a "qualified elector," even if he has not, by registering in time, made that qualification effective for voting purposes at this election. So Mr. Drew was a "qualified" elector, though not a registered one. A suit to take his name off the ballot could not have been maintained if brought. And, if it were maintainable, but was [illegible] be heard now, [illegible] his candidacy for the final [illegible], for which he is constantly qualified. Still less could it be brought, after election, to exclude him from an office for which he is qualified and to which he will then have been elected. And to make a five-times certainty six times sure, even if all these eligibilities were ineligibilities, they would be effective only in case of a contest, which nobody proposes bringing.

The case is almost too plain for discussion, and is not important enough to think about. The only excuse for referring to it is the fact that it has been "played up" by both evening papers, and there might be persons who, if the law were not explained, might assume that the objection could be serious.

GUILTY—ACQUITTED

Lee O'Neil Browne was acquitted yesterday of one charge of bribery, and doubtless if he can drag out the trials of the other cases long enough, until the courts and the people are tired, he will secure acquittals or dismissals of those charges also. The actual getting of a bribe-giver into the penitentiary seems a task almost too great for our American judicial system.

But Lee O'Neil Browne is nevertheless guilty. When four persons separately confess to having been bribed by a certain man, and he does not deny it—he did bribe them; that is all. The law gives him the right to remain silent, and to have no inference drawn from his silence. This law is binding on the jury, and under it they may have been justified in their acquittal. But it is not binding on the normal human mind, because it does not accord with normal mental process. For a reason which the law forbids us to consider, but which we nevertheless do consider, the assertion is made without any hesitation whatever that Lee O'Neil Browne is guilty of the charge of which a jury has just found him not guilty.

Probably this Illinois graft prosecution will go the way of all graft prosecutions. Many men will be disgraced, but few or none convicted. Later the issue will be turned on the prosecutors themselves (who are doubtless human, and therefore vulnerable) and the muddle-headed will be led to think that the faults or blunders of the prosecutors are the real crime. Finally, the whole campaign will evaporate or fizzle; everybody will be tired or disgusted, and it will look, near by, like a failure. But the future historian will see that the "failure" was success—that the crime of which nobody could be convicted, was made so odious that nobody had to be convicted again, and that out of corruption came forth incorruption.

BALLINGER REPORT

The effort of the minority of the Ballinger investigating committee to take advantage of a temporary situation to get its report presented as the majority report seems as foolish and futile as the effort of the members of the majority present to prevent it. What difference does it make, either way? The committee has no power to take any action. It has only power to recommend to Congress. The recommendation of five members of the committee is only the recommendation of five members, even if only three others happen to have been present to vote against it the day it was brought up. The recommendation of seven members of the committee is still the recommendation of seven members, whether all of them sign it the first day or some of them sign it afterward. And it makes no difference which report the printer labels "majority" and which "minority." It all depends on which report Congress accepts, anyway—and that depends, probably, on politics.

Nevertheless, the inconsequential squabble has brought out one thing. If Ballinger is to be whitewashed, not all the committee will wield the brush. If Ballinger is to be condemned, and his removal recommended, by the minority of the committee. Their report is, in fact, already issued. The remainder of the committee will report to the contrary effect. Congress and the public will be left exactly where they were before these reports were published—of two opinions.

There is only one question on which opinion is unanimous. That is that Ballinger is a hoodoo. Right or wrong, culprit or martyr, Ballinger is an injury to the administration and the government. He ought to quit it, for the public peace. Doubtless, voluntarily or otherwise, he will do so.

DO YOU BELIEVE THIS?

In Denver, where the women are allowed
That right for which all suffragettes must yearn,
A sinful politician watched the crowd
Of men give way to women in their turn
Who came to cast their ballots, calm and proud.

Success had smiled upon that candidate
Until the women all began to cast
Their votes against him. Face to face with fate,
He saw a dire defeat approaching fast.
Could he escape or was it now too late?

You see, the women liked him not at all;
For he had made his meaning very plain
When in his speeches he was wont to call
Most women fickle and all fair ones vain.
Now they were bound that he should have a fall.

They said this slanderer should promptly know
That woman was a power, not a pet;
It was their wish to deal a heavy blow,
To hand him what he would not soon forget;
So they advanced in swarms upon the foe

That wily politician, so they say,
Within his brain devised a scheme, in truth,
Its full success soon made his manner gay.
He put a mirror in each voting booth,
Delayed 10,000 votes and won the day!
—From Chicago News.

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Democratic Insurgency

"Let the people rule" does not seem to be good Democratic doctrine when the people do not want to be ruled by other people, namely the bosses. In some districts, and even in the state at large, some Republicans were preferred to the Democratic candidates at the primaries. Several Republicans were preferred by a plurality of Democrats, who wrote the names of their preferences on Democratic ballots. At their state convention the "machine" passed a resolution that the Republicans be asked to withdraw from the Democratic ticket. Republican insurgency gladdens the hearts of Democrats, except where the insurgent is adopted by Democrats to the extent of making him a Democratic candidate.—Stockton Independent.

No Unqualified Endorsement

The Republicans in state convention declaring for continued allegiance to the progressive policies enunciated by Roosevelt and reaffirmed and already in part enacted into law under the administration of Taft, did no less than full justice to the latter. The demand by Delegate McNab of Mendocino county that an unqualified endorsement be given to the present administration, appears like an effort to make small personal capital at the expense of party harmony. So long as Ballinger, Hitchcock and Wickersham continue as influential and aggressive factors in the Taft administration it is impossible even while giving the latter credit for the constructive reform legislation that has been passed by Congress, to render a tribute of complete approval.—Chico Enterprise.

System Defeated

Julius Caesar Burrows, who has been by the vote of the progressives of Michigan relegated to obscurity after fourteen years of faithful service of the system in the United States Senate, is chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, which inspects the credentials of all new senators to see if they have been duly elected according to the rules of the game and determines in the first instance whether they are to be seated. In addition to this, Burrows is a member of the important committees on Philippines, naval affairs, post offices and post roads and finance. On the committee on finance he ranks next to "Boss" Aldrich himself—is, in fact, his most immediate "associate."

This are the people in all parts of the country expressing themselves emphatically with reference to recreant representatives in Congress and placing new men pledged to the new nationalism on guard.—Chico Enterprise.

Petroleum Production

With Alaska coming to the front as an oil producer, and more and more big gushers breaking forth in other fields, the old cry of over production is likely to be raised again; in fact it is more or less audible all the time, whether the conditions governing the supply and demand are normal or otherwise. It is worthy of notice that the gap between the production and consumption of oil never gets so wide as to amount to disaster. An over production of oil might result in temporary falling of prices, but this in itself would have a strong tendency to increase the use of oil in various ways to such an extent that the overplus would be removed, and it naturally follows that wherever oil has been once substituted for fuel or any other purpose, those who have made the change generally stick to it, even in the face of any rise in the price which may ensue. It is asserted on very good authority that the demand for gasoline alone will be sufficient to keep up the price of oil to a profitable figure, and with the navies of the world making use of it as the coming fuel in preference to coal, there appears to be no good reason why any one should anticipate a disastrous slump in the market.—Coalinga Times.

Pardee Unmasks Governor Hay

The action of Governor Hay of Washington in attempting to engineer a bolt of Western delegates from the National Conservation Congress at St. Paul yesterday because it had been made clear that the Congress would take a stand for Federal instead of State control of natural resources, was about as small and childish a thing as has been done in all the fight between the people and the special interests for the water and coal and other natural resources. Hay attempted to pack the Western delegation in favor of the special interests, and it is apparent that he succeeded, but he could not keep former Governor Pardee of California out of the congress, and this is the way that Pardee answered Hay's charge that the congress was packed against the Western States:

"I have in my possession a telegram from an official representing 19,000 citizens of Washington. It affirms that Governor Hay was not authorized by his constituency to appear before the Congress in behalf of State's conservation rights. So far as State's rights in this matter are concerned, I'd like to put a hypothetical question: Can any one tell me of anything in the entire State of California, not nailed down by the National Government, that has not been stolen? If there is one single thing I'd like to know what it is?"—Stockton Record.

Honors Easy on Party Split

It is a fond claim of the Democracy that in the coming struggle Mr. Bell will have a united party behind him while Mr. Johnson will be facing a resious split. This sentiment was voiced by the chairman of the Democratic convention in San Francisco. Either the gentleman is misinformed or is deliberately seeking to create a doubt of Republican loyalty to Mr. Johnson.

The Democrats have imagined that the insurgent movement among Republicans corresponds to the Populistic split in their ranks in the 90's. It is nothing of the kind. The insurgent or progressive movement against the regulars or standpatters is for reforms that will be worked out within the party. All the leaders are aiming for this consummation. The President desires it, Mr. Roosevelt desires it, and that it will be so is already evident. Insurgency in California had for its fundamental idea the divorce of the railroad from politics. While of course this fight could not be waged without some bitterness, there is no more of this spirit exhibited today than there is bitterness and opposition to Bell in the Democratic ranks. The faction lead by Galvin McNab make no secret of their enmity to Bell, and are open in their support of Johnson. In his last campaign Mr. Bell fiercely attacked Hearst. This man and his journals have changed not at all, and to be consistent Mr. Bell cannot treat with him, which leaves another considerable influence against him.

Honors are easy between the two gubernatorial candidates when it comes to a comparison of party solidarity. The Democrats can extract no solace from the hope of appreciable Republican deflections. And when the examination is continued in the light of this truth, to a comparison of party strength in the state the absurdity of a contention that Bell has even a "ghost of a show" for election is as vain and evanescent as the spirit of our slang.—Visalia Delta.

LEGISLATOR R. L. BEARDSLEE OBJECTS TO ANALYSIS OF HIS RECORD

At a caucus of Senators and Assemblymen held last night for the purpose of considering the measures to be brought before the extra legislative session a violent verbal attack was made by Assemblyman R. L. Beardslee, of San Joaquin county, upon Franklin Hichborn, legislative correspondent of The Bee. Beardslee declared that Hichborn had vilified and misrepresented the members of the last regular session and that he would not sit in any meeting or any session of his house at which Hichborn was permitted to be present.

Beardslee is one of the members of the Legislature who has found it impossible to secure renomination at the hands of his party because Hichborn, in The Bee and in his published book, set down, without favor and without malice, the exact record made by the Assemblyman during the last session. No other statement is necessary either in explanation of Beardslee's conduct or as defense of Hichborn, to whom the cause of good citizenship owes a great debt.

The Bee quite naturally will not play into the hands of corrupt or faithless Legislators by withdrawing at the demand of any who may belong in this category, the correspondent who has ably and fearlessly exposed their methods. It feels quite certain that the Legislators whose records are clear will not support any demand such as is made by Assemblyman Beardslee.

For a Legislature, the great majority of whose members have well and faithfully fulfilled their trusts, to rule from the floor a correspondent because his quotations from the official journal have forced retirement into private life of some faithless members, would not favorably impress the public.

At all events Mr. Hichborn will stand by his guns, and The Bee will stand by Mr. Hichborn, because he is right.—Sacramento Bee.

"CALIFORNIA REPUBLICANS HAVE A PLATFORM TO BE PROUD OF"

The platform adopted yesterday at the Republican state convention was in the nature of a declaration of independence. It bespoke the freedom of the Republican party in this state from Southern Pacific domination and declared for a constructive program of state legislation that will meet the instant favor of the thoughtful citizens. It does not depart from time honored Republican traditions in its demand for a protective tariff. "We hold that the true measure of protection is the difference in the cost of production and distribution at home and abroad. Less than this is unjust to the American laborer and producer; more is unjust to the American consumer."

This strikes a new note in protection, and is followed up with the declaration that unsatisfactory tariff bills have been due in the main to the practice of trade and barter. A tariff commission is demanded that shall ascertain the difference between cost and production, and shall recommend to Congress such revision as its research determines necessary.

The plank repudiating railroad influence in politics of the state is straightforward and unequivocal. The value of the railroad is recognized in the transportation line, but "hands off" is demanded in the politics of the state.

The direct primary is praised but a demand is made that it be shorn of its cumbersome features.

Progressive legislation is demanded in several planks. The direct election of United States senators is demanded and the following constructive reforms are urged: Reduction in the number of state officers; restoration of the true Australian ballot; placing of the judiciary candidates on the ballot without party designation; direct legislation through the initiative, referendum and recall in county and local government; revision of criminal laws to make justice more speedy and sure; county home rule, establishment of a reformatory for first offenders; the merit system in public service; an employer's liability act; more power for railroad commission; submission to the voters of the state of an amendment for universal suffrage; establishment of a federal steamship line between California and Panama ports; an income tax; enforcement of anti-trust laws; for good roads, and for San Francisco for the Panama exposition.

The convention was controlled by a new element. It took its orders from no boss and was dominated by no special interest. New influences were at work and these influences were wholesome and reformative.

Johnson and Wallace have a platform on which they may well be proud to stand upon in the campaign now on, and on which they will win.—Riverside Press.

IMMENSE LOSS TO CALIFORNIA FARMS CAUSED BY THE GROUND SQUIRRELS

It is announced that the Federal government has taken up the work of exterminating the ground squirrels (diggers) in California, and that Dr. Rupert Blue, who had charge of the work of fighting the bubonic plague in San Francisco, will superintend the anti-squirrel crusade. The Federal government takes up the work from the standpoint of public health, it having been found that ground squirrels are nearly as bad as rats in spreading bubonic plague.

But California has other reasons for desiring the extermination of the squirrels. There is no means of estimating the damage done annually to crops in California by ground squirrels, but it must be enormous. No crop, seemingly, unless it be citrus fruits, is free from the squirrel pest. The diggers destroy hundreds of thousands of pounds of deciduous fruits and nuts yearly; they practically strip isolated vineyards; they destroy and store away for winter's use one bag of grain, possibly, for every hundred bags harvested; they dig holes in alfalfa fields, causing the farmers added expense for irrigation and making barren spots in the fields. But probably the most serious feature of their work of destruction is the digging of holes in the reclamation levees, through which the water finds its way when the streams are high, and if the holes are not quickly discovered and plugged, causing the breaking of the levees. It is generally believed that at least 60 per cent of levee breaks are attributable to this cause. Thus one squirrel hole may be the cause of a loss running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Heretofore there have been anti-squirrel crusades, but they have been confined to small districts, or undertaken by comparatively few farmers here and there. The squirrels on one farm or one township have been exterminated, but the next year finds the old holes tenanted by homeseeking diggers from the neighboring farm or township. But if the matter of exterminating squirrels is taken up throughout the state and the work is carried on systematically for a year the state would be rid of the squirrels for probably ten years, perhaps longer; and it would pay. It would be one of the best investments the people of California could make.

It is probable that eventually laws will be passed making it compulsory for land owners and tenants to exterminate squirrels, as it is now compulsory on them to spray orchards and vines in order to exterminate insect pests. Meanwhile the people can, if they will work unitedly, accomplish the same result without any law to compel that action.

The Record presumes that Dr. Blue will attempt to organize the people to co-operate with the federal government in the work of killing off the squirrels, but it would not be a bad idea for the farmers to begin to promote the poisoning of squirrels now. To that end, the Record reproduces the formula for the squirrel poison recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture:

"Clean barley, sixteen quarts (four gallons); strychnine sulphate (powdered), one ounce; saccharine, one teaspoonful; hot starch solution, one and one-half pints of water to make cup of ordinary gloss starch in one and one-half pints of water to make a medium thick solution, free from lumps. While hot, stir in one ounce of powdered strychnine sulphate and mix thoroughly. Add a teaspoonful of saccharine and continue the mixing for a few minutes until all the lumps disappear. Add the poisoned starch to the four gallons of barley and mix rapidly and thoroughly to evenly coat each kernel of the grain. Allow to dry for about an hour before distributing. Distribute the poisoned barley liberally, scattering a good teaspoonful at each place, along trails or on clean, hard places used by the animals. Do not place the poison on the dusty mounds. In large colonies scatter a few handfuls on the cleaner places among the holes."—Stockton Record.

A Watch Question?

Have you ever noticed how a mail bag dropped from a speeding train, topples over and over in its own dust till it brings up with a bang against station platform or post?

Think what would happen to your watch if it was in that bag, and you can form some idea of the treatment that a watch bought by mail receives.

Watch buying by mail is decidedly risky.

Better buy at home—here—where you can get a timepiece handed over the counter, adjusted properly and all ready to run accurately.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Generally fair weather prevails throughout the country this morning except along the Atlantic seaboard and over the lower lakes where the weather is cloudy and showers have fallen during the last 24 hours. A 24 hour fall of 1.82 inches is reported from Pittsburg. The highest barometric area over the Northwest yesterday morning has spread eastward into the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and upper lake region with attendant cool weather. A fall in temperature of from 10 degrees to 20 degrees has occurred over the lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and upper lakes while temperatures near or below the freezing point continue in western North Dakota, Wyoming, Montana and the British Northwest. Fog has disappeared from the coast of California and the temperature has risen abruptly on the coast from San Luis Obispo to Los Angeles.

Conditions favor continued fair weather in Fresno and vicinity tonight and Saturday.

J. H. Lowry, a Selma rancher, passed away at a local sanitarium at a late hour Thursday night following a long illness. Lowry was 65 years of age and a native of Tennessee. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Selma.

The funeral of the late Myrtle Edith Burnett will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Presbyterian church at Clovis. The deceased was a native of Illinois and 32 years of age. She died at her vineyard home near Clovis Thursday.

Charles Wilcox, arrested yesterday morning for drunkenness, admitted to Patrolman Cronkhite, the arresting officer, that he had stolen a set of tools from a ranch near Sanger. Wilcox will be held until the case can be investigated. The tools were found in Wilcox's possession.

Thomas McMikan, a rancher, aged 67 years, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Drenth on a charge of cruelty to animals. Drenth saw the aged man driving a three-legged horse along the street. The animal seemed to be suffering. McMikan was lodged in jail. The horse will in all probability be killed today.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning William Harvey Sr., secretary of the Fresno Humane society, received a telephone call that a horse was lying in the middle of the road near Eggers' vineyard. The informant said the horse was dying. Mr. Harvey drove out to the mentioned spot but could not find any trace of the animal.

Mr John W. Rohrs has bought the Sequoia grill of Ad. Schubert and after several days of renovating and remodeling will open again this morning. Mr. Rupert Fritz has been secured as manager. He will conduct a first class grill at popular prices.

NEGLECTS FIVE CHILDREN; WOMAN IS JAILED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Husband Arrested But Later Released Because of Peculiar Law.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnson Defendants in Warrant in Justice Court.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnson, residing on a small farm at 330 East avenue, were arrested last night by Sheriff Chittenden and Deputy Collins on a misdemeanor charge preferred by Myron W. Betteridge. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were lodged in jail. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out in Judge Graham's court yesterday. Later it was ascertained that the charge against Johnson might not stick, and William Harvey, Sr., secretary of the Fresno Humane society, asked for his release, which was granted.

The specific charge against Mrs Johnson is that she has neglected to provide clothing and medical attention, causing unjustifiable suffering to five minor children. Mr. Betteridge visited the home yesterday morning and found the children, four boys and one girl, all of whom are under 14 years of age, rocking with filth. Their hair was so matted that a comb could not enter. One of the children is a cripple, his limb so drawn that it will not touch the floor. Another was suffering with a large ulcer on his hip. The clothing was in rags. Food was scattered about the floor and flies swarmed about the room. Dr. Long was taken to the house by Mr. Harvey. The physician said that it was the worst case of filth that he had ever seen. He found the children covered with lice.

After the warrant had been sworn to, it was ascertained that Mrs. Johnson is the mother of five children by a former husband. Under the state law, Johnson cannot be held on the same charge. For this reason he was released from custody. Mrs. Johnson remained in jail over night. The woman says that she came to this country from Denmark ten years ago. Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Johnson moved to Fresno from Massachusetts.

Johnson is a painter. He is 32 years of age. His wife is 29.

Mrs A. W. Petrea and grandchildren, Masters Owen and Evert Hawkins, left yesterday forenoon for San Francisco where for several months she will be the guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Hawkins. Mrs. Petrea, who came to town for the wedding of his son early in the week returned to the mountains this morning.

A. L. Petrea, son of the well known Pine Ridge lumberman, left with his bride yesterday morning for the Coalinga oil field, where he is employed by the Limited Oil company and where the groom has a home ready furnished for them.

SWASTIKA CLUB MEETS

Swastika club was pleasantly entertained on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Nora Ryan. There were fifteen members and friends present. Many plans were discussed for the work for another year. Arrangements were completed for a party to be given in the near future. Mrs. Ryan was a very gracious hostess and served delightful refreshments. The next meeting of the club will occur on Thursday, September 22, at I. O. O. F. hall when the ladies will enjoy an original entertainment.

Admission Day was observed here yesterday by the closing of the banks and the county and city offices. In the court house the offices of the county and of the supervisors clerk were open clearing off the work accumulated after the primary election.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE TO ORGANIZE TONIGHT

Members to Meet in Office of Geo. Cosgrave in Land Co. Building.

The Republican county central committee will meet tonight at the office of George Cosgrave in the Land Company building, at which time the new committee chosen at the recent county convention will formally organize and prepare to begin at once the work of the campaign. J. P. Bernhard will probably be made chairman of the new committee, with Ray Baker secretary. It is probable also that headquarters will be selected.

Inasmuch as the majority of the people in the county are now busily engaged in gathering in their grapes, it was thought best to postpone the beginning of actual work until these people could begin to take an active interest in the campaign.

NEW REPUBLICAN CLUB HAS NO LIMIT ON AGE

Chester H. Rowell to Address Meeting to Be Held on Monday Night.

An elaborate program is being prepared by the members of the Republican club for the meeting which will be held in Einstein hall on Monday night. The program will be announced in full tomorrow morning.

There has been some misunderstanding regarding membership in this club and many young men with gray hair have inquired as to their eligibility to become members. The Republican Club has no age limit and all are welcome to join its ranks. Never for an instant was the idea ever entertained that there should be an age limit.

Among the speakers at the meeting next Monday night will be Chester H. Rowell, while it is also expected that other prominent Republicans in the city will make brief talks.

MADERA TO EXHIBIT AT FRESNO CO. FAIR

Enthusiastic Meeting Held in That City; To Have Special Train.

R. A. Powell, secretary of the Fresno Agricultural Association, W. M. McDaniel, Henry Hawson and R. F. Fly journeyed to Madera last night, where an enthusiastic meeting was held at which the Fresno county fair was discussed. At the conclusion of the meeting it was unanimously decided to make an exhibit at the fair next month. W. C. Maze acted as chairman of the meeting.

The members of the Fresno delegation all made addresses regarding the fair and the various attractions which would be here at that time and the Madera people, following the example of other towns surrounding Fresno, decided to make an exhibit.

A committee consisting of J. G. Roberts, George Brown and Ed Saunders was appointed to arrange for finances, while G. Marchbank, C. A. Clark and Judge Barcroft are to secure a suitable exhibit. W. A. Moore is to see about running a special train to Fresno during fair week.

The 4th of October, which has been designated at Governor's Day, will also be Madera Day.

REAR ADMIRAL EVANS IS NOW IN COALINGA

Party to View Fields in This Section Today; All Are Eastern Men.

COALINGA, Sept. 9.—Under the guidance of N. F. Wilson, president of the Lincoln Mortgage and Loan Company of San Francisco, a party headed by Rear Admiral ("Fighting Bob") Evans arrived in this city tonight and made their headquarters at the Pleasant Valley hotel. The party has been making an extensive tour of the southern oil fields, and will spend some time here.

In the Evans-Wilson party are the following well known Eastern and California capitalists:

Theodore P. Gilman, formerly state controller of New York, under the administration of Governors Roosevelt and Odell; R. L. Dunn, managing director of the Lincoln University Endowment Association; J. A. Cruikshank, a New York capitalist, who is representing New York parties interested in the local oil fields; D. S. MacInnes of London, representing British interests in the local oil fields; Col. Timothy Spellacy, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of California and well known oil magnate; J. D. S. Thompson, vice president of the Premier and Mascot Oil Companies; former Mayor M. P. Snyder of Los Angeles, a well known Southern California banker; Col. J. B. Lankershim, proprietor of the Lankershim hotel in Los Angeles and a well known banker and capitalist; John W. Mitchell, vice president of the Bank of Southern California; Hubert T. Morrow, corporation attorney, and R. P. Boyer, vice president of the Lincoln Mortgage and Loan Company.

VALLEY WELL IN 40 FEET OF OIL SAND

COALINGA, Sept. 9.—Superintendent Aggers of the Valley Oil Company stated this morning that over forty feet of the oil sand in the Valley well had been drilled into, and that the perforating will be done tomorrow and the well tested. He believes that there are at least two stratas of oil sand underlying the one they are now in, but it is unlikely that they will be tapped if the present sand yields a heavy flow of oil.

TO CALL OUT EMPLOYES OF HUGHES LAUNDRY THIS MORNING

Incensed by Work on Labor Day, Unions End Long Altercation.

Cooks and Waiters to Ask for Six Day Week in Near Future.

The first important strike in Fresno for the last three years was called last evening, when after a series of altercations with J. H. Egan, proprietor of the Fresno Steam Laundry, which recently absorbed one of its two competitors, the Hughes Laundry, the Federated Trades Council placed the Fresno Steam Laundry on the unfair list. The union help will be called out during the day. The union members claim that Proprietor Egan has failed to live up to many clauses in the agreement between the proprietor and the union, and that in direct opposition to this agreement, the foreman of the place has kept non-union employes in positions there.

J. H Egan stated to a reporter that he had nothing to say on the proposition last night, but asserted that he was not opposed to unions on principle. In a recently published statement he claimed that the employes were receiving fair treatment and asserted that any concessions would be impracticable owing to the competition of Japanese laundries.

PASS RESOLUTIONS.

The immediate cause which precipitated the strike was Egan's refusal to let his employes take part in the Labor Day parade last Monday. This, say the union men, was the last straw, and as a consequence a strong delegation from the Laundry Workers' local last night appeared before the central body at its regular meeting and related their differences with the laundry management. The Federated Trades Council passed the following resolutions.

"Whereas, Under date of August 27, 1910, the Fresno Labor Council communicated its wish that the Laundry Workers' Union take part in the Labor Day parade, and

"Whereas, The said Council through notice in the Republican and other sources declared that any laundry working on Labor Day would be declared unfair; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the action of the Fresno Steam and Hughes Laundry, in refusing to observe said day, is obnoxious to organized labor; and be it further

"Resolved, That such antagonistic methods, along with other grievances, in compelling its union employes to work on said day under fear of discharge, are such that not only organized Labor, but the public at large must consider them an insult. Be it further

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this body that the Fresno Steam and Hughes Laundry be placed on the unfair list; that organized Labor exclude said laundry from patronage, and that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this Council and be used for publication."

The agreement with the laundries, state the union men, provides that the employers shall use only union help, excepting when the unions are unable to supply the men or girls wanted, and that in the latter case the non-union help shall be unionized within a limit of four or five days. The union men assert that the foreman of the Hughes Laundry on several occasions informed the non-union help they could work there as long as they wanted whether they belonged to the union or not, while the union agents were uncivilly invited to desist from persuading the non-union help to join the organization.

Other alleged violations of the agreement are cited by the unionists, among them the claim that Egan has not lived up to his agreement not to deduct for less than half a day's loss of labor.

Incensed by the report that Egan stated that he did not want union patronage, members of the Council asserted that all of the Fresno unions would stand together in this fight to obtain full recognition of the union agreement.

"The work of the laundry worker in any case is enough to warrant everything that the union asks for," stated Secretary Seaward of the Federated Trades last evening. "There is nothing exorbitant in what the union desires, either in wages or hours, or general recognition. I think the members will secure public support in what they ask. It is only reasonable that the union men want the labor confined to members of the union. It is only by standing together that such employes can obtain any sort of recognition. The refusal to allow union representatives to interview the employes is not only a violation of the agreement, it is shortsighted from any point of fair-minded consideration. The unions have no desire to club men into the organization, but when a man in authority tells his employes publicly that they need not belong to the union, the implication is sufficient to curtail the man's freedom of choice. We believe that the general public outside of the ranks of organized labor will endorse the action of the central union body."

It was stated at union headquarters last evening that Fresno has about 1,800 union members, of whom probably 65 per cent are men of family who own homes in the city.

COOKS AND WAITERS ACTIVE.

Monday evening there will be an important meeting of the Cooks' and Waiters' Union, preparatory to asking for a six day instead of a seven day week. There is a shortage of skilled employes in this class, stated union officials last evening, as wages here are even below those paid in other large cities. Only the conditions are harder. The most important condition which tends to drive the workers to other cities is the fact that local employes have to work seven days out of the week, instead of six days, as elsewhere. The bettering of conditions, state the union men, will benefit the employers, as more of the better class of labor in these lines will be attracted to the city through the improved conditions.

PROHIBITIONISTS ORGANIZE.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 9.—The Prohibition state convention met here today, effected permanent organization, appointed committees on nomination of candidates, resolutions and platform, and adjourned until tomorrow to wait the reports.

J. M. Glass of California, national lecturer of the Prohibition party, delivered an address today, in which he said that the disintegration of both the old parties through corruption was the principal hope of success of the Prohibitionists.

Fresno Encampment No. 78, I. O. O. F. conferred the patriarchal degree last night upon Charles E. Henley. Next Friday night the golden rule degree will be conferred on him. H. Ahrensburg was elected delegate to the grand encampment, which meets in Santa Ana October 3rd. Fresno Canton No. 38 closed the evening with a short drill.

$100,000 FROM SMUGGLERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—That the vigilance of the customs agents at this port is profitable is shown by a report from Surveyor Henry, showing that $100,000 worth of jewelry has been seized from alleged smugglers during the last two months. More than half of the gems were taken from women and about half is still in the hands of the authorities awaiting confiscation or adjudication.

The recent prosecutions, the surveyor says, have begun to have an effect on the passengers who formerly tried to smuggle and the declarations are being made with greater care and accuracy than ever before.

REPORTS FRESNO 4TH IN COUNTY EXHIBITS

Good Display and $300 in Winnings; Robertson Back From Fair.

Fresno county's exhibit at the state fair won fourth place at a county exhibit, according to unofficial report given last night by C. G. Eberhart on his return from Sacramento. He also stated that Fresno exhibits won approximately $300 in prizes, and third place in its fruit exhibit.

The Fresno band of cowboys, headed by "Happy Jack" made a good showing against the Wyoming band imported for the Wild West fleets, stated Eberhart, who is in charge of the stock exhibit of the Fresno county fair. He remarked also that some of the best exhibits will be brought to Fresno, including some fine specimens of horseflesh.

ROBERTSON RETURNS.

Secretary William Robertson of the Chamber of Commerce, returned last night, somewhat pale through his recent attack of illness. He stated however that up to noon today no official announcement of awards had been made, and that he did not know the result of the competition.

"Everyone agreed, however, I believe," stated the secretary, "that the exhibit this year was the best we have ever had. Not only was the showing one of the most comprehensive, but the county was fortunate in getting a central position. The display, arranged in the shape of a Chinese pagoda, with a color scheme of white and gold, received general commendation."

WILL ELIMINATE THE FIRE HORSE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—With the delivery soon of eleven motor-driven hose carts, engines and trucks, ordered by Fire Commissioner Waldo, the first step will have been taken toward the elimination of horse-drawn apparatus in the New York fire department. The new apparatus was ordered owing to the success of a motor-driven hose cart bought for experimental purposes some months ago.

The new apparatus includes six high pressure hose wagons, an aerial ladder truck, a combination engine and hose cart, two motor trucks and a steam engine on a sixty horsepower gasoline automobile chassis.

The elimination of the horse, according to Commissioner Waldo, is a step in the direction of economy rather than in answer to a demand for sensational speed. None the less the saving in time will be considerable.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The strike of 44,000 coal miners in Illinois, which was settled yesterday, it is estimated cost the miners $23,000,000 in wages. The loss to the operators during the five months shut down is placed at $10,000,000. The annual production of coal in Illinois amounts to 58,000,000 tons and the shortage this year due to the strike will be in the neighborhood of 24,000,000 tons.

Are there any REALLY PERFECT Diamonds?

Certainly! Plenty of them. Not so many as of the other kind, to be sure, but enough to go around for all those who really want them.

O yes, it's true some diamond merchants say there is no such thing as an absolutely perfect diamond, but that is because they sell cheaper stones.

To begin with, only five per cent of all diamonds mined will make perfect stones as large as 1-2 carat or larger after cutting. Naturally they are the most expensive.

Then most of this five per cent come to America in the rough to be cut here. That leaves few perfect stones to be cut in Europe. That is the way of it.

We have diamonds in any sizes that are perfect, in white or blue-white color. Perfect in proportion and brilliancy, perfectly flawless—perfect in every way.

We will sell diamonds subject to exchange at full value for a larger stone at any time—six months or six years. We open accounts with responsible parties.

SANTA FE TRAINS STILL USE ESPER

Bridge Repaired Tonight is Latest Report; Trains Are Delayed.

Work on repairing the Santa Fe bridge over the San Joaquin river has not progressed as well as was expected Thursday, and the Santa Fe trains are still using the Southern Pacific tracks from Merced. It was stated last evening, however, that it was believed that the Santa Fe trains will resume their usual schedule by tonight.

The extra traffic resulted in complicating the Southern Pacific schedule last night, and train No. 50 from the north came in just after No. 26, the "Owl" flyer, last night.

GRAHAME-WHITE HAS BAD FALL IN BI-PLANE

Lands Sidewise After Flight of an Hour and Escapes Unhurt.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—In the Harvard-Boston aero meet here Claude Grahame-White of England ended an hour's duration flight tonight by landing sidewise in his Farman biplane, crumpling up the right side of his lower plane and damaging the chassis. White was unhurt.

White was unable to lower his own world's get-away record of twenty feet, 9 inches. His first effort was 52 feet, 8 inches.

In the duration flight, Ralph Johnstone in a Wright biplane was eventually compelled to come down on account of trouble with his motor. When White came down it was found that he had exceeded Johnstone's duration mark by nearly four minutes. White had also taken the honors in distance, covering 33 miles, 1420 feet, while Johnstone had gone 28 miles, 4557 feet.

"BUG" SENDS CARD TO TEDDY AT CLUB

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A man about 55 years old, giving the name of W. W. Burnham and having the appearance of a cowboy, gave the house detectives and police on duty at the Hamilton club banquet in the gold room of the Congress hotel last night some anxiety by his endeavor to see "my friend Teddy."

"I'm a pal of Seth Bullock," he told Clerk Ernest Rouhl, "and must have my card sent right up to Terry Roosevelt. He will see me all right. Here's the card; now beat it, boys."

Upon the card was written "W. W. Burnham," and underneath it he had scrawled "Just a minute, Teddy." The card was taken to Secretary Norton. Mr. Burton got no nearer than that to the colonel.

"Plain bug," said Clerk Rouhl. "But maybe he did know the colonel at that."

GREEK LEPER ESCAPES CUSTODY; TAKES TRAIN

SALT LAKE, Sept. 8.—John Kokas, a Greek in an advanced stage of leprosy, who has been under quarantine here for the last three months, was missing yesterday from the tent in which he has been segregated and it was learned that he had taken a train on Wednesday evening intending to go to New York and thence to Greece.

Funds for the journey were provided by his countrymen here. His friends would not divulge the route he had taken.

Kokas is a middle aged man. His forehead, cheek and chin are branded with the stigmata of the leper. The red patches also appear on his hands. The left hand, it is said, is almost ready to drop off.

Medical men who have observed the case say that the diseases would be communicable only under special conditions; for example, the contact of a contusion or abrasion of the skin with the leprous body. The possibility of infection from ordinary association on a railroad train is considered very slight.

THE GYPSY.

Is there no room in your gypsy heart
Where a woman's love might lie
Warm and sheltered, your prize and song,
As you wander beneath the sky?

"No;" for you say, "I'll carry no weight,
I must be free, be free.
I'll carry no love in my gypsy heart
To make a drag for me."

Little you know, then—love is the cloak
That shelters you from the storm;
Love makes the shoes for your gypsy feet;
Love is your coat so warm.

Tho' you take no purse and you take no staff,
You cannot escape the load
Of a woman's longing and woman's love,
That follow you down the road.

DANISH CONSUL HERE ON VISIT TO COUNTY

Will Today Call on Countrymen in Business in This City.

J. L. Biggild, Danish consul for the Pacific coast with headquarters in San Francisco, is a visitor in Fresno. He spent yesterday as the guest of Hadori Jacobsen at his vineyard home in Oleander. Today he will visit local Danish business men for the purpose of becoming acquainted and to learn of the products and general prosperity of Fresno county.

Mr. Biggild intends to visit different Danish settlements in the state to become acquainted with their various needs and to familiarize himself with the great resources of California.

His first impression of Fresno county was away beyond his expectations, and he promises to be a frequent visitor here. Mr. Biggild is the first special envoy ever sent by the Danish government to the coast.

TWENTY THOUSAND AT EUCHARISTIC SESSION

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—Twenty thousand men and women, speaking divers tongues, packed the cathedral of Notre Dame here tonight for the first public meeting of the Eucharistic congress.

The Papal legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, presided, and about him were grouped in the order of their rank, Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore; Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland; twenty archbishops, fifty bishops and many distinguished laymen from England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Italy, Canada and the United States.

Cardinal Logue was the first speaker. He was followed by Archbishop Ireland, who was cheered for ten minutes by French Canadians in the upper galleries, who shouted that he was the greatest Catholic in the world.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking in French, said that a permanent salutary influence was bound to be exerted by the eucharistic congress.

Tomorrow the congress will close with a procession from Notre Dame to Mount Royal.

SCHOOL BOARDS PAY TO USE OWN MONEY

ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 9.—School boards of New Jersey frequently have to pay 4 per cent a year for the use of their own money, according to testimony given here in the investigation by a Senate committee into the affairs of the Orange Board of Education.

Under the school law, the boards have been advised that money for one purpose could not be borrowed for use temporarily for anything else. Therefore, in Orange, for instance, with $110,000 on deposit in the Orange National bank as a fund for the erection of schools, the Board of Education has been compelled to borrow $50,000 from the same institution for current expenses. On the deposit of $110,000 the board drew interest at the rate of 2 per cent a year and on the loan it paid 4½ to 5 per cent.

There appears no remedy for this state of affairs, except for the municipal boards to strive to catch up with their revenue and reduce their loans to a minimum.

UNDERTAKERS WAR UPON SEA BURIALS

AUBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 9.—There will no more burials at sea from big passenger steamers, if the New Jersey undertakers can bring about reform in what they designate as a "practice too barbarous for this twentieth century."

The State Association of Embalmers has appointed a committee to urge the passage of laws requiring that embalmists be stationed on each steamship, so that in case of death at sea, the body may be cared for scientifically.

The International Congress of Cremation, now in session in Brussels, recently adopted resolutions urging the installation of a crematory on every ocean liner and recommending that the bodies of all persons dying at sea be disposed of in this manner, the ashes to be brought to land and delivered to the relatives of the deceased.

RATTLESNAKE VENOM A CURE FOR EPILEPSY?

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The use of rattlesnake venom as a cure for epilepsy is being tested by New York and Philadelphia surgeons. Reports show that the venom has resulted in a marked benefit to all of the patients so far treated. Epilepsy is classed among the incurable diseases and requires the most persistent treatment to ameliorate the condition of those afflicted.

A preliminary report of the results of the venom treatment, which was discovered accidentally as the result of a snake bite suffered by an epileptic in Texas two years ago, has just been made to a local medical society by Dr. Ralph Spangler of Philadelphia.

"The venom when given hypodermically," he says, "makes a profound impression on the nervous system. I am convinced from my limited experience with its use in epilepsy that there is a distinct possibility of our having in this therapeutic agent a drug which, upon further medical investigation and study, may be the means of modifying the convulsions in epileptic attacks and possibly lessening their frequency, if not ultimately effecting a cure in many cases."

A "SWAGHT" PARTY

Mrs. J. Fink Willoughby and daughter Nancelgh have issued invitations for a small party upon their return from the mountains next Thursday. It will be called a swaght party and Winfield is assured that this is the latest craze among those who spend the summer away from home and find that the old man has left doors and windows open, and the house is full of flies. At the swaght party the guests come in with dainty bejhboned swatters and have a contest to see who can kill the most flies. Ordinarily flies count 10, water-bugs 15, mosquitoes 50, bottleflies 25, and snakes 120. Mice and rats are tabooed and are never discussed in polite resort circles. Any one seeing mice or rats is not supposed to notice them. The one having the highest score will be presented with a dainty little plaque made by the summer resort Indians on their reservation near the hotel garbage pile.—Winfield, Kans., Free Press.

MORTON GAS ENGINE GETS FIRST PRIZE

Frank Rehorn of the Morton Gas Engine Company of this city received word from Sacramento last night that a fifteen horse-power engine which the company had placed on exhibition at the State Fair in that city had won the gold medal and blue ribbon. The news came in a telegram from the representative of the company, who is now at the State Fair.

SIXTEEN WORDS IN WILL.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—The shortest will on record in Connecticut has just been filed in the surrogate's office at South Manchester, Conn. It contains exactly sixteen words, leaving the $30,000 estate of the late Knight D. Cheney, Jr., to his wife.

The will is as follows.

"I give and devise all of my property, real and personal, to my wife, Ruth Lambert Cheney."

EPISCOPAL ORGAN HERE IN DECEMBER

Work on $6000 Instrument for St. James' Church Progressing Well.

Work on the new pipe organ for the St. James' Episcopal church of this city is well advanced, and it is believed that the organ will be installed in December. The instrument, the gift of William Helm, will be one of the finest in the city. A dedicatory program of special music, showing the range and power of the organ, will be given at the church in connection with the first service after its installation.

Special interest attaches to the instrument, as it is being constructed with particular reference to the acoustic requirements of the church auditorium. The organ is being built by the Murray-Harris Company of Los Angeles. Costing in the neighborhood of $6,000, it will be a superb two-manual, nineteen stop instrument. Those familiar with the organ and the company believe that it will have a very fine tone quality, and excellent stop combinations.

To harmonize with the interior finishing of the church, the organ will be trimmed in Flemish oak. Some changes in the church will be made whereby the choir will come into the church directly, instead of through the regular entrance, the change necessitating an extra room. There will be no change in the chancel, however, as the organ chamber will permit easily of the installation of the instrument. The bellows of the big instrument will be operated by electric motor.

The committee which has the matter in charge is composed of Mrs. Montgomery Thomas, Mrs. J. L. Maupin, Frank Helm and J. Y. Beveridge.

"Heretofore," remarked Rev. Harvey S. Hanson, rector of the church, in reference to the organ, "we have been somewhat handicapped through lack of facilities for rendering sacred pieces of heavier nature, such as oratorios. The new organ will be particularly welcome through its enabling the presentation of such music."

ZEPPELIN USING MY IDEAS, SAYS TAILOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A New York tailor announces modestly to the world in a ten page typewritten statement that he has invented the "greatest airship ever known to man." The principal feature of the new craft, he says, is that the motor is to be run by perpetual motion.

"Count Zeppelin is using some of my ideas," says the tailor in his statement. "I don't know how he got them but I've still got one great principle that he has not struck upon. That's perpetual motion. The machinery which will run my craft will be a combination of the bicycle and this new perpetual motion. I'll give the bicycle pedals a few turns and after that the machinery will go until I stop it. I'll only devote myself to steering.

"The airship, which is now nearing completion, will carry twenty persons. The first trip will be to Washington, where I shall pay my respects to President Taft and Congress. Any twenty persons who want to go with me will be welcome. After that I'm going to establish a trans-oceanic service."

INVOLUTION

(Suggested by Renyer Smith's striking poem, "Evolution.")

When you were a princess and I was a knight
In the paleozoic time;
And side by side on the cushions wide
We reveled in prose and rhyme;
When Front de Boeuf was terror enough
To give us horrible dreams,
And we cried so hard over Bonnivard
We forgot our chocolate creams;
When Roderick Dhu, as a hero new,
Our heartbeats seemed to hush;
When Uncle Tom brought a shudder from
The Southland warm and lush;
We did not know that we ever should grow
To the age of giggle and blush;
But, girl and boy, neither cool nor coy,
With passions yet to be born,
We saw the Right in the poet's light,
And agreed the wrong to scorn.

It was only some fifty years agone,
But the compromise of life
Has wrenched us both from the formless oath
We took for righteous strife;
Your hand was won by a merchant's son
I fell into business ways—
The cursor of prose made the conscience close
And ethics dissolve in haze—
We have lived no worse than the thralls of purse
That jostled us on the path;
Not a scandal springs from conventional things,
And we fear no aftermath;
But for just one hour in the castles that mount
To the high empyrean blue,
I would give the half of my bank account,
And I'm sure that you would, too.

—J. A., in Brooklyn Eagle.

HAUNTED.

The memory of other years
A spell most magically cast o'er me;
The hopes that filled me and the fears
In quick succession pass before me.
So many scenes before me flit,
As long as I muse on Time's surprises;
As in deep study here I sit,
A face before my vision rises.

But 'tis no maiden's face to me
No maid her love gave—more's the pity!
Oh, no; this tale is not to be
An ultrasentimental ditty.
That face was one that brightly shone
On a gold eagle a friend borrowed—
He disappeared to parts unknown
And ever since I've wept and sorrowed!

COMMITTEEMEN DECLARE IN FAVOR OF OUSTING SECRETARY BALLINGER

members to attend the session of the committee and

"Whereas the chairman withdrew from the committee room and failed and neglected to return after more than four hours absence, and has abandoned any connection with the committee at this meeting and has arbitrarily and without any authority under the resolution creating the committee or vote of the committee, given notice of a meeting of the committee in the distant city of Chicago, Tuesday, September 13th, and is attempting to force an adjournment to said city, and now therefore be it

Resolved, that, under such circumstances, it is the duty of those present to make reports to Congress of their findings in the matters submitted to the committee; that all members of the committee that all members of time before the convening of the next session of Congress, to prepare and file such reports and findings as they desire.

GIVE OUT FINDINGS.

Graham then moved that the members of the committee authorize that the findings be given out. Graham presented the report of the Democrats and it was adopted by a viva voce vote.

Madison asked leave to file a separate report and findings which was agreed to.

Madison then moved that both reports be filed with Secretary Siemann with instructions to have the same printed and copies filed with the secretary of the Senate and the clerk of the House.

Pursuant thereto copies of the Democratic report and the report of Madison were filed with Siemann.

[illegible] moved that if Secretary Siemann did not file the reports, he would return them to Senator Fletcher, who will have them printed and filed.

The members then adjourned to meet in Washington December 3.

MADISON'S VERSION.

Representative Madison, speaking for himself and the four Democratic members said:

"The committee at its last session in Washington adjourned to meet in Minneapolis September 5 for the purpose of formulating reports to Congress. The committee met in pursuance of this adjournment.

"There were [illegible] constituting a majority. At the request of the chairman we adjourned to meet September 7. We met in pursuance to the adjournment, eight members of the committee being present later, Senator Sutherland and Representative McCall withdrew. The committee after the transaction of certain business, then voted without objection on the part of any member to take a recess until today at 10 o'clock.

"At 10 o'clock we convened, Chairman Nelson in the chair. There were six members present, also the secretary of the committee, Mr. Siemann. Immediately after calling the committee together the chairman read a statement, the substance of which was that certain members were not in the city and that one of them, Senator Root, could not be here until Tuesday and said there was one of two alternatives for us to adopt—to adjourn either until Tuesday in Minneapolis or Monday in Chicago.

"The chairman stated he would entertain no other motion except to adjourn, to which protest was made as arbitrary and unfair, and a motion was made to instruct and empower the secretary of the committee, Mr. Siemann, we being without a regular sergeant at arms, to bring Senator Sutherland, Representative Denby and Representative McCall at once to the committee.

"The chairman said he would entertain that motion because he felt there were two things we could do, adjourn or do what we could to secure the attendance of absent members.

"We have been doing what we could to secure the attendance of absent members. We have insisted they should come to the meeting and engage in deliberations on the committee report.

"They have so far refused. There has been no attempt to transact other business so far, except that a motion was made to take a recess at 2:30 p. m. which the chairman refused to put but said he would let some other member put it if he desired. He repeated again that the only thing we could do was to adjourn or use such efforts as we could to compel the attendance of a quorum.

"About 11:30 he stated that he desired to leave the room on an errand and would be back in a minute. The committee had not voted to adjourn. It is legally in session. The chairman has been here presiding over its deliberations and retired with the statement that he would soon return.

"Instead he has sent us, through the secretary of the committee this notice: 'You are hereby notified that a meeting of the joint committee of Congress to investigate the Department of the Interior and its several bureaus, officers and employes and of the bureau of forestry in the Department of Agriculture and its officers and employes, is hereby called to be held at the Auditorium Annex hotel in Chicago Tuesday, September 13 at 10 o'clock and you are hereby requested to be in attendance.'

"Of course the chairman has no authority under the resolution under which the committee has acted to adjourn the committee to any time or place and his action in this respect is unaccountable and absolutely without authority.

"The only thing that we have insisted on is that all the members should be present and discharge the duty incumbent upon us under the resolution authorizing the creation of the committee.

"We object to being hauled about the country and object to unreasonable delays to secure the presence of absent members. It was as much their duty to be here on the morning of September 5 as ours."

MADISON GIVES OUT HIS VIEWS OF CASE

Madison's conclusions are:

"That the charges made by L. R. Glavis against Secretary Ballinger should be sustained; that in the matter of the disposition of the Cunningham coal lands, Mr. Ballinger was not a faithful trustee of the interests of the people and did not perform his duty in such a manner as properly to protect such interests.

"That the charges made by Mr. Pinchot should be sustained; that Mr. Ballinger's course in the administration of the Department of the Interior has been characterized by a lack of fidelity to the public interest. That this has been such when the treatment of the Cunningham coal claims, the restoration of water power sites to entry without intention to re-withdraw and in his administration of the reclamation service, the latter resulting in unnecessary humiliation to the director and tending toward the disintegration of the service.

"He has not shown himself a friend to the conservation of our natural resources, that the man should be, who occupies the important post of the Secretary of the Interior in our government and he should not be retained in that office."

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS.

A summary of Madison's findings follows:

"The investigation resolved itself in two branches, the Glavis and Pinchot.

"Glavis charged that Ballinger had been an unfaithful trustee of the peoples' interests; that this was clearly demonstrated by his conduct toward the Cunningham coal claims.

"Pinchot charged that Mr. Ballinger's course as Secretary of the Interior had been characterized by a lack of fidelity to the public interests; that he was an enemy to the policy of conservation of natural resources; which was evidenced by his restoration to entry of the water power sites withdrawn by Secretary Garfield; his conduct toward the reclamation service and the Alaska coal fields."

Madison then described Alaska as "the last great natural storehouse of natural resources, that to a large degree belongs to all the people of the United States, that the Secretary of the Interior should guard them against both fraud and monopoly."

CUNNINGHAM CLAIMS.

The Cunningham coal land claims were then described, Cunningham being referred to as "the promoter of a plan whereby he and his associates were to prove up the land and then operate it as one mine by means of an association or corporation; that he was to have one-eighth of each subscriber's stock for his services in prospecting land and managing the deal."

The findings declare "that strong evidence was produced that this plan was adopted and acted upon by the subscribers; that the Cunningham entries can be cancelled for fraud if vigorously prosecuted by the government; that the claims contain from fifty to ninety million tons of coal."

The composition of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate is given and declared to be "an association organized to exploit Alaska."

The findings of Madison declare "that this syndicate entered into an option agreement with the Cunningham claimants in 1907 whereby said claimants were to organize a corporation capitalized at $5,000,000 and convey one-half the stock to it for $250,000. The coal lands of the Cunningham group were to be deeded to said corporation.

AIMED AT MONOPOLY.

"The evidence fairly shows that the syndicate aimed at the monopolization of the Behring River coal fields," continues the findings.

"In December, 1907, Mr. Ballinger, as commissioner of the general land office, at the request of ex-Governor Miles C. Moore, of Walla Walla, Wash., a Cunningham claimant, ordered the Cunningham claims to patent. Previous to this order, the Guggenheim option agreement had been made. Claims had gone to entry, but patents were being delayed.

"All Alaska coal claims were under suspicion of being fraudulent. The order under such circumstances were wrongful. Glavis, who had a few days before been instructed to investigate all Alaska claims, and who was given a formal notice of the order, protested against it and the order was revoked.

"After resigning as commissioner, Mr. Ballinger acted as advisor and counsel for the Cunningham claimants, in their attempts to obtain patents. He prepared a lengthy affidavit for Clarence Cunningham and presented it to the Secretary of the Interior and commissioner of the general land office in an attempt to explain away a former affidavit of Cunningham and the entries in the Cunningham journal, both of which had been secured by Glavis and were the most damaging pieces of evidence against the claimants in possession of the government.

"Mr. Ballinger violated no statute in so doing, but he did violate the moral obligation which was upon him, not to attempt to embarrass the government in an effort to conceal the entries begun while he was commissioner and which it was his duty to aid in good faith while in office.

DECISION REVERSED.

"The act of May 28, 1908, permitted a consolidation of coal claims to the extent of 2,560 acres, where the locations had been made in good faith. The construction placed upon the act by Messrs. Pierce, Bennett, Finney and Clements, and seemingly by Mr. Ballinger, would have condoned all agreements to combine in violation of the act of April 28, 1904. The Pierce decision had that effect. Through the efforts of Glavis and Henry M. Hoyt, this decision was reviewed by the attorney general and reversed.

"In the summer of 1908, H. H. Schwartz, chief of the field division of the general land office, endeavored to force Glavis to report on the Cunningham coal claims and to go to trial or hearing in the proceeding to cancel the entries, without an examination of the claims to ascertain if the improvements were being made in a manner to indicate that the claims were being operated in common. This was an important circumstance in the government's case.

"After Glavis was removed from charge of the case, James M. Sheridan, who was to succeed him, reported that he was right and the field examination was made prior to the hearing."

WATER POWER SITES.

Madison discusses the Pinchot charges and the question of water power sites and their withdrawal by the government in order to prevent monopoly. He says:

"Mr. Ballinger, soon after taking office as secretary, declared such withdrawals were without authority of law, although there was much authority to uphold Mr. Garfield's action, and restored the lands to entry and exposed them to the danger of ultimately, without any restriction as to their use, falling into the possession of those who would monopolize the power.

"At the time of restoration he did not intend to re-withdraw the lands, but on account of protests from those whom he said had an exaggerated idea of the danger, he re-withdrew the lands in sufficient quantity to protect the sites. He made, to Senator La Follette, in a letter, as the reason for restoring a large portion of the land, the statement that the reclamation service had recommended the restoration of the land to the public domain. This statement, also, was made in a letter to the President. The evidence before the committee shows that the officers of the reclamation service protested against the restorations.

"Ballinger's course toward the director of the reclamation service since he has been secretary has been such as to tend to destroy discipline and harmony in the bureau.

"It appears that Glavis has been effective in the accomplishment of results. He protested against and prevented the patenting of the Cunningham claims when ordered to patent by Commissioner Ballinger. He secured a reversal of the Pierce decision construing the act of May 28, 1908, and he prevented the commencement of hearings to cancel the Cunningham entries until a field examination had been made. Glavis, Henry M. Hoyt, Horace Tillard Jones and Andrew Kennedy are deserving of commendation by the people of this country.

"The questions which determine the fitness of Mr. Ballinger as a public servant were those which arose out of the Cunningham claims and the restoration of the water power sites. These had to do with the conservation of the natural resources of the nation. Mr. Ballinger on one side and Mr. Pinchot and Mr. Garfield on the other, occupy entirely opposite positions toward that policy.

"Mr. Ballinger was willing that the Cunningham claimants should obtain their patents without investigation, although the signs were prominent, and he should have been aware of them, that they were traveling toward the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate and monopoly."

ON CONSERVATION

Madison discusses conservation and the necessity thereof, also declaring it a crime to permit national resources and water power sites "to fall in to the hands of monopoly." He continues:

"Mr. Pinchot believed that the policy of conservation was being attacked in the very place where a friend of conservation was most needed, and his acts have been inspired by his desire to protect the policies to which he is devoted.

"I regret that I am compelled to arrive at a conclusion differing from the one which was arrived at by the President, for whom I feel the highest personal regard and respect. We have had before us many witnesses and have a vast amount of documentary evidence and have had the opportunity of testing the credibility of witnesses in the most searching manner and after hearing them I have arrived at these conclusions."

STATE ISSUES ESPOUSED BY CALIFORNIA REFORM LEAGUE

Aggressive Fall and Winter Campaign Has Been Planned for.

Picture Show Censorship and Day of Rest Are Demanded.

The Reform League of California, the organization which was instrumental in bringing about the legislation against race tracks gambling, has announced its state issues and at a meeting held at Stiles hall in Berkeley made plans for an aggressive fall and winter campaign.

The state central committee of the league consists of Dr. G. G. Eldredge, Dr. E. D. McCreary, Dr. S. D. Hutsinpiliar, Judge B. W. Badger, Prof. W. H. Herms, Prof. W. P. Bentley, Prof. F. E. Morgan, A. W. Naylor and Dr. G. L. Tufts. Municipal leagues will be organized throughout the state in affiliation with the state central committee. Judge Badger and Professor Bentley were appointed as a sub-committee on race gambling and prize fighting; Dr. McCreary, Professor Morgan and A. W. Naylor on Sunday rest legislation, and Dr. Eldredge and Professor Herms on the censorship of moving picture shows. Dr. Tufts, as state superintendent of the Reform League, is ex-officio member of these sub-committees.

Effort will be made through the next legislature to eliminate "oral betting" from race gambling by means of an amendment to the Walker-Otis law. Also to amend the statute governing prize fights so that no question can arise as to its proper construction in outlawing all questionable pugilistic sports. The league will stand for a weekly day of rest for every business man and common laborer, and for a wise censorship of moving picture shows for the protection of children and youth.

The circular issued by Secretary G. L. Tufts further announces that "a work of education for the creation of public sentiment along these lines of reform will be prosecuted by means of public addresses and the printed page. The state central committee desires the hearty co-operation of all who believe in protecting the home, society and the state from immoral and social vices. The Reform League is an organization of Californians, by Californians and for California. Its motto is, that we should be prepared by the time of the Pacific-Panama exposition at San Francisco to display to the world high ideals of moral purity and social justice which shall convince the visiting nations and states that California is indeed the Golden Commonwealth.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS TO REGISTER THIS AFTERNOON

Principals' Meetings and Teachers' Meetings on Day's Program.

Considerable Interest Is Shown in Course of the Junior College.

Parents of the school children of the city, especially of those who will be in the local schools for the first time this year, are urged to take their children to the respective schools for registration this afternoon. This step is urged in order that there may not be vexatious delays Monday. On Monday, it is pointed out, the principals will be so busy about other matters that the children who are to make their first registration and who will have to be graded may be required to wait all day before finding their proper classes.

The principals of the various schools will be in their offices this afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be able to attend to the new registration, stated City School Superintendent P. L. McLane yesterday. The pupils going today will be assigned to their classes, so that there will be a minimum of trouble when the schools start work Monday.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS.

The principals of the grammar and elementary schools will meet the teachers of their respective institutions at 2 o'clock this afternoon to discuss the work for the coming year. The meetings will be held in the various offices of the principals.

Principal Liddeke of the High school will meet the faculty of the High school and of the junior college in his office in the High school building this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The work of the institution will be discussed, together with arrangements for the various classes.

PRINCIPALS MEETING.

The principals of the city grammar and elementary schools will hold their first meeting at 9 o'clock this morning, when they gather in the office of Superintendent McLane in the city hall. Plans for the year and for the coming registration will be discussed. The junior college and High school faculty meeting will be held just afterward at the High school building.

There have been a number of inquiries about the junior college work in the past few days, several from within the city and others from outlying districts, the former being in the majority.

"One cannot discuss the junior college work until the term actually has commenced," remarked Professor Liddeke yesterday afternoon. "There have been a number of inquiries in the past few days from people, I believe, who have not asked before. They seem to be about evenly divided between those who intend to take up university work later and those who have not expressed any such intentions. In all there has been a satisfactory amount of interest shown."

The manual training building on the High school grounds has been completed and the equipment for the work is being installed. While all of the equipment has not yet arrived from the East, there will be enough of temporary nature for the beginning of work with the other classes.

W. B. Gibbons will be in charge of the work, as in last year. He also will have supervision of the manual training in the two grammar schools. This summer he attended the manual training department of the summer school of the University of Chicago.

With the establishment of the manual training rooms on the High school grounds it is believed there will be stronger interest shown in this department than in former years. While there have been many high school students taking up the work, the course was handicapped through having the rooms in another part of the city and many were deterred from taking up manual training on this account.

CHURCH AID SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church held a meeting yesterday afternoon, the first of the season, and it being President's Day the members and guests of the society became the guests of Mrs. J. C. Vaughn after the business session. In entertaining the meeting Miss Myrtle sang as a solo, "The Swallows," Miss Madaline Goddard recited "The Boy's Story," and Miss Madge Weeds sang a solo. Refreshments were served in the dining room and a social chat with stories of the summer vacation rounded out a pleasant afternoon.

CHAMP CLARK AIDS BOOM FOR SPEAKER

Says Will Drive Missouri Mules Down Pennsylvania Avenue If He's Elected.

MOBERLY, Mo., Sept. 9.—"If I am elected Speaker of the next House of Representatives I will drive a team of of Missouri mules down Pennsylvania avenue."

The foregoing is the promise Congressman Champ Clark made to a crowd of visitors at the home-coming celebration here, in the course of an address. The promise pleased the crowd and for several minutes the speaker was unable to proceed with his speech, on acounct of the cheering and yelling.

It was Mr. Clark's assigned duty to welcome home Missourians, who had strayed in the borders of the "Show Me State." He welcomed them all right, but was inclined to ask why they ever went away in the first place.

Mr. Clark also reproached his hearers for permitting Missouri to take a back seat, as he said, it had done.

"Missouri has taken a back seat too long," he said. "We have done the work and the other fellows have got the glory. Missouri has never had a president, a vice president, a justice of the Supreme Court or a Speaker of the House. It is time we had all of these officers, and I'm going to see to it that we get one of them right away."

"THE EASIEST WAY" BELASCO PRODUCTION

Nothing Too Much, Guiding Principle of Famous Manager-Producer.

Belasco scenery and stage properties have set a standard in the dramatic history of this country, the significance of which cannot be over-estimated. They have taught the public that there is a happy medium between the bare stage of the Elizabethan days and the overloaded productions of managers who do not know when and where to stop.

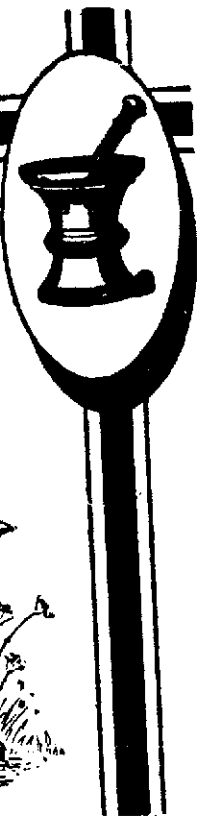

In the mounting of all his productions Mr. Belasco is always guided by the wise Greek principle of "nothing too much." It is a central article of faith with him that just at that point where scenery and properties begin to bury the play, to draw away attention, to fail in helping interpretation, there the producer must stop. Mr. Belasco believes in beautiful scenery and faithful realism in appealing to play-goers.

Take "The Easiest Way," Eugene Walter's great play, in which Frances Starr will appear at the Barton next Tuesday evening, as an illustration. The first act passes amid a scene of that poetically beautiful kind of which Mr. Belasco is so famous, but when the play-goer has been granted a few minutes—allowed for by the opening dialogue of the play—to absorb the loveliness of the set, he is conscious only of the appropriateness of the surroundings amid which the story is being unfolded. Then comes an almost violent change in the second act, but the squalid nature of the room disclosed in that act gives vital assistance in appreciating the stern struggle on which Laura Murdock has entered. The absolute faithfulness of the details in that scene has been testified to again and again by those who are familiar with the miserable quarters in which some minor stage folk are obliged to live when out of work. And so, too, are the luxurious appointments of the third and fourth acts exactly in keeping with the story of the play at this point. The seat sale for Miss Starr's engagement is now open.

HOW KAISER CAN BELIEVE IN THE "DIVINE RIGHT"

He Is Not a Man of His Times But of the Middle Ages.

When the Indians at Fort Yuma the other day burned $2000 with the intention and expectation of supplying a dead member of the tribe with spirit money to spend in the spirit land, they did something which, if done by civilized and educated white men, would have proved them to be hopelessly insane. It proved nothing of the kind about the Indians, of course, but simply that they are still some distance back--and not so very far, either--along the road which the more progressive races have traveled. What they believe about graveside sacrifices is what the ancestors of us all believed at one stage of our ethic history, when that and like beliefs, being in conflict with no known facts or probabilities, could be entertained by minds entirely sane and normal.

In much the same way the kaiser is able, without being insane, to believe that he rules, not by the will or consent of his people, but by a "divine right," for the exercise of which he is responsible only to God, the giver of it. Since he is not less familiar with than proud of the history of his house, it is, of course, difficult to understand how he can see anything of divinity in its founders or in the acts of their successors, who not for nothing were called Hohenzollerns, or hightaxers, but in doing so he merely perpetuates a [illegible] which all of them both held and expressed a few decades ago, with the full acquiescence of everybody with any claims to respectability.

Even he probably would not claim that the first Hohenzollerns were themselves demigods, as once did every royal house, and as still does the ruler of one nation. But in particularly proud of its progressiveness and modernity. But, inclination aiding education, the Kaiser is able to ignore the facts and probabilities which to the vast majority of Europeans and to all Americans make the idea of a divine right to rule seem a notion at least as crazy as that which caused the Indians to burn their $2,000. In this particular respect he is not a man of his time, but of the Middle Ages. In this as in every other respect, however, he is the man of his place, his training, and his immediate environment.

In one thing or another every one of us has something of the sort of faith which enables its possessor to believe what he knows is not so. The Kaiser is peculiar only in that his blinded illusion concerns divine right instead of Friday as an unlucky day or the new moon as something which it is not well to see over the left shoulder.—From New York Times.

S. P. SECTION HOUSE AT REEDLEY BURNS

Packing House District Threatened, But Flames Confined.

REEDLEY, Sept. 10.—Fire at 1:30 this morning destroyed the Southern Pacific section house here, causing a loss of about $1500. The cause of the fire is attributed to an overturned lamp or a defective flue.

The section house was in the line of the Reedley ice plant and the large packing houses, which are heavily stocked with fruit. Owing to the absence of wind the flames were confined and what might have been a disastrous fire was averted.

The occupants of the section house were unable to save any of their personal property.

THINKS MONARCHS ARE TOO COSTLY LUXURY

Member of Parliament Sides With Laborites for Curtailing Allowance.

We heartily commend the action of the labor members in protesting against the heavy sums of money provided in the civil list for members of the royal family. In our opinion their main criticism was on right lines. While the monarchy exists as an accepted national institution, it is our obvious duty to pay for its upkeep; and, furthermore, since love of ceremonial flummeries is so salient a part of our national character, we must be prepared, as Mr. Balfour said, to do it handsomely. If we will wallow in costly court pantomimes, we must pay without whining.

We have no objection to the king being paid a salary proportionate to the supposed dignity of his position; but the receipt of such adequate salary should bar the monarch from owning and drawing rents from private property. The sum of £470,000 per year should leave the king free from financial anxiety, especially if he is the paragon of thrift and moderation which our loyal newspapers would have us believe. He has not to support his widowed mother, as the state provided her with a comfortable pension of £70,000 a year for life. He has not to provide for his wife, as, in the event of the king's decease. Queen Mary will receive £70,000 a year. He need not bother about the Prince of Wales, who is now only 16, and the owner of the Duchy of Cornwall, which yields him £87,000 per year. This will accumulate during the prince's minority, so that by the time he is 21, he will receive nearly half a million "savings," and the annual income to follow. Even then the wife who marries him will receive a premium of £10,000 per year, and, should she survive him, a further pension of £30,000 per year. Each of the king's other sons, on reaching 21, will receive £10,000 per year, and at marriage an extra £15,000 pereyear, which brings their annual state icome up to £25,000.

Each of the king's daughters, on attaining her majority, will receive £6,000 per year. All this apart from the cost to the state of what Mr. Barnes called the "decorative officials" of the royal household, the "parasites fattening on the nation under the shadow of the throne."

When we consider in addition to this little bill, the grants made the family connections, and the fact that the king must be crowned at great expense and buried at great expense, and that the expenses for the family funerals usually fall upon the nation, we may begin dimly to realize that monarchy is rather an expensive luxury. The liberals and tories howled wildly at Mr. Keir Hardie when he tamely suggested that the king's sons and daughters should be able to lead lives of idleness, luxury and ease. But if they thing that free gifts of large sums per annum are incentives to industry, we have misunderstood their philosophy. Or do they think that "signing their names in large round characters," or "making sumptuous blots" in visitors' books, evenstitute a nequivalent of service for the money received?

Takin gall things into consideration, we must admit that the figures of the civil list compel serious thought on the institution of monarchy. The costly, vulgar, and altogether hideous display of the late king's funeral makes us wonder whether we could survive such another. The present shameless attempts to whitewash and deify a commonplace personality, the inevitable bull's-eyes, "exactly in the center of the target," surprise visits to village school children, the robust preference of spades and harrows for gold trowels and caskets in planting gold trees and laying foundation stones—if the sloppy press imagines that this puerile make-believe imposes upon the modern public, it will find to its chagrin that the "big child" is "too old" to blow the watch case open. We are in daily dread that when the officials present the king with a gold, jeweled key to "open" something, he will wave it aside and prefer to show them how he can pick the lock. The public is growing up very quickly, and the zealous promulgators of monarchy had better realize it.

Also, when the workers are as particular about the inspection of their bill as are their capitalist brethren, there will be a reduction of staff.—Victor Grayson, M. P., in the Clarion.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

A RAIN TRAP.

In a time of distressing drouth a harassed amateur agriculturist stepped into a shop to buy a barometer. The shopman was giving a few stereotyped instructions about indications, when the purchaser impatiently interrupted him.

"Yes, yes," said he, "that's all right, but what I want to know is, how do you set the thing when you want it to rain?" — From the Yorkshire Daily Post.

INSURANCE CO. WANTS TAXES.

ANACONDA, Mont., Sept. 9.—Maintaining that its business is interstate commerce and not subject to taxation under state laws, the New York Life Insurance Company filed suit against Deer Lodge county yesterday for refund of taxes amounting to $269.78, paid under protest. The complaint asserts that all contracts for policies issued to Montana residents are made, modified and discharged in the New York office and that any local taxation is a burden on interstate commerce, contrary to the constitution. Attorneys for the company say that this is a test suit, brought with intention of carrying it to the United States Supreme Court to determine the rights of the company in every state of the Union.

HOO HOOS IN SESSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The first business session of the Concatenated Order of Hoo Hoos was called to order today by A. Hanley of Ontario, Snark of the Universe.

Rev. William Rader of this city delivered the invocation and addresses of welcome were made by Governor Gillett, Mayor P. H. McCarthy and Albert H. Hellbott. The responses were by W. A. Hadley and Platt B. Walker. The annual reports were read and committees named after which the convention adjourned for a trip to Mt. Tamalpais.

OBJECTS TO NAME ON BAD TRANSLATION

Woman Sues New York Publishers Over Stories of Maupassant.

Guy de Maupassant's masterpiece, "As Strong as Death," and eight other stories by the famous French author published in English by a New York firm have been made the subject of a suit of extreme interest to publishers and the legal fraternity.

Mrs. Florence Crewe-Jones, of 615 West 126th street, made the English translation of "As Strong as Death," which is the leader of the collection published here nearly a year ago and given wide circulation. She is now seeking legal redress because she is also translated from the French the accompanying stories, eight or more in number, which stories she characterizes as somewhat salacious.

The publisher named in the papers is James Lamont Perkins, of 13 Cliff street.

Mrs. Crewe-Jones asks that the courts give her a judgment for $10,000 for injury to her reputation by having her name connected with the translation of the stories of which she disapproves. She has also served papers in an injunction suit to prevent the publishers from getting out another edition of the Maupassant stories in the same way.

The title-page, to which Mrs. Crewe-Jones takes serious exception, does not carry the names of the individuals who translated the alleged objectionable stories; and she declares through her lawyer, W. B. Hale, of 49 Wall street, that the inference is that she translated them all.

Mrs. Crewe-Jones is prepossessing and an extremely pretty young English woman, who has made her home in the United States for about five years. She is highly educated and is well known among literary folk.

"I feel that I have been terribly misrepresented in this matter," she said at her home yesterday. "And I never would have appealed to the courts if Mr. Perkins had only granted my repeated request to make such explanation in connection with the publication as would show that I did not make the translations to which I have objected.

"I am quite alone here in New York, and am dependent entirely upon my literary efforts for a livelihood. This sort of advertising will ruin me. Just the other day I went to a publisher for work and he indicated that a woman who would permit her name to be connected with the stories which I say are vulgar and repulsive was hardly the one to do what he wanted.

"Aside from that what do my friends think of me? The translation I made of 'As Strong as Death' was the best thing I ever did, but I could not send it to my friends. One acquaintance who knew how hard I had worked over De Maupassant's masterpiece insisted that I send a copy of the translation I made. I granted the request and sent the book, but not until I had and sent the book, but not until I had ripped out the other stories and had it bound.

"Some days ago I learned that it was the intention of the publishers to put out another edition. I went to them and asked that the necessary changes be made, but got no satisfaction, so there was nothing left for me to do but appeal to the courts."

James Lamont Perkins declined to make any statement concerning Mrs. Crewe-Jones' suit last night, other than an admission that the papers had been served.

From a legal standpoint the suit is interesting through the fact that it is without precedent.—New York American.

NEW JERSEY'S "WASH DAY."

Old Festival Celebrated Annually By Farmers of the State.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 3.—Gov. John Franklin Fort, the members of his military staff, politicians large and small seeking state and county offices in the adjoining counties of Ocean, Monmouth, and Burlington, were gathered at the great and only "wash day" which took place Saturday at Manasquan Beach, adjoining this fashionable resort, which is also the summer capital of the State and the residence of the executive during the heated term.

The oldest inhabitant cannot remember the origin of this unique day among the farmers of this section, for since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, there has been this great and only gathering there the second Saturday in the month of August, and for this affair there are no notices or invitations sent out to the grangers of the three counties. The tradition is handed down from fathers to children, and thus, during the last two or three decades, on the second Saturday of August all roads lead to the beach, where, without money and without price, there is a chance for all to have a wash in the cool waters of the Atlantic.

The inroads of fashion in this section have not in any way cooled the ardor or the loyalty of the large class for this great day, and it seems today that there were more people present than had been there for several years in the past, and the fun was fast and furious.

Probably there is nothing so unique in the United States as this annual "wash day" of the farmer folks of this section of New Jersey, and the thousands in attendance today showed conclusively that in no manner has the attraction of the outing lost its power over the granger element of the three counties.—From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

PLAN CONSOLIDATION OF POWER INTERESTS

SEATTLE, Sept. 9.—S. Z. Mitchell, president of the Electric Bond and Share company and chairman of the board of supervisors of the Pacific Light & Power company of New York, arrived in Seattle yesterday. It is announced that his visit is for financial negotiations for the consolidation of the Hanford and Strahorn irrigation canals and power plants on Priest Rapids, involving an expenditure of $90,000,000 in Northwestern power development.

Mr. Mitchell declined officially to admit that the deal had been closed, declaring that many obstacles might intervene. Michael Earles, president of the Hanford Irrigation company, and Mr. Mitchell held a private conference last night.

The Hanford owns one of the best sites on the river and at one time the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railway company made an effort to secure it.

Back of the Strahorn company, it is declared, are the Harriman interests building the North Coast Railway and endeavoring to acquire desirable power sites.

Mr. Mitchell, with other officials of the Pacific Light & Power company, last week made a tour of inspection of Priest Rapids and spent two days looking over the Hanford power plant and irrigation canal in the Strahorn project.

It is reported that when the consolidation plan is carried out, the line from Priest Rapids will be connected with the Yakima system at Pasco and Sunnyside, supplying another link in the system of the Washington Water Power company of Spokane.

It is estimated that there is more power available along the seven miles of the Priest river rapids than at any other site in the United States except Niagara Falls.

HAVE "GRAPE DAY"

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 9.—Admission Day is being generally observed as a holiday here. Early this morning two special trains bearing about 1000 San Diegoans left for Escondido to celebrate Admission Day and "grape day" in that little town. Elaborate preparations were made at Escondido to entertain the visitors. There was no program of exercises in this city but there was a general exodus to the seaside and to points in the country for the day. All the banks and most of the business houses are closed.

A LULLABY

Lullaby and evensong; the waves upon the shore
Sing in rhythmic undertone, repeating o'er and o'er.
Evensong and lullaby; the night winds' soft reply,
Lullaby and evensong; the sunset tints that die.

Rocking on a tiny wavecrest like a tiny babe asleep;
Sunset fades, the winds grow still, but we our watch must keep.
Darkness now, your hand in mine, for wafted by the sea,
Comes the infant love, sweetheart, just born for you and me.
Comes our new born love, sweetheart, that binds you close to me.

SMARTEST CHIMPANZEE AND SMALLEST LADY IN WORLD PALS IN BARNUM AND BAILEY SHOW

Weenie Wee, the smallest living woman, and Chimmie Fadden, a baby chimpanzee, with Barnum and Bailey's Circus.

A [illegible] friendship can hardly be imagined than the one which is now interesting the 1,280 members of Barnum & Bailey's big circus family and a considerable portion of the public which is attracted twice a day to the exhibition of the greatest show on earth. [illegible] and the two aforesaid friends will be seen in Fresno Thursday, September 15.

In the side show one of the principal objects of interest is a young lady who, [illegible] in front of the big top, is described as "Princess Weenie Wee, the smallest living woman, aged 19 years, height 17 inches, weight 7½ pounds."

Weenie Wee is, so far as records show, the smallest bit of humanity that has existed since the days of General Tom Thumb and Commodore Nutt, who had so much to do with the early success of [illegible] the trademark of the best and the most interesting [illegible] shows. Unlike many prodigies of [illegible] nature she is quick and alert [illegible] the best of health and [illegible] is much interested in the crowd [illegible] at her as she [illegible] the first time [illegible].

Just in the [illegible] took hold [illegible] day [illegible] a dwarf table and armed with a fork in one hand and a [illegible], Chimmie, the chimpanzee, on the day in question was enjoying his dinner in the presence of no one save Andre Ziesen, when little Weenie Wee having [illegible] her exhibition costume and prepared to walk a block and a half to her hotel for dinner, chanced by. They had never met before, and for a moment the situation was embarrassing, for the smallest lady was regarding the brightest chimpanzee in a way which showed that she desired an introduction. The trainer rose to the occasion and the two shook hands.

Now whether or not a monkey can think is a question that has taxed the ability of scientific men long since, even before the days of Charles Darwin. Whether Chimmie really thinks or not does not matter, but when he had shaken hands with the diminutive lady of the side show and found that she was willing to remain, he scurried forty feet away to the box office and came back pushing a wooden chair which he placed opposite his own and then politely helped Weenie Wee into it. By this time a group of employes had collected and the pair had a small but appreciative audience.

"How do you like him, Weenie?" asked the box office man.

"I think he is very nice and he certainly is polite," said the little lady.

That was the beginning. The next night they ate together at the request—women are sly things—of the midget, and now if you happen to have the entre to the circus during the hours when the general public is excluded, you may often find the brightest chimpanzee and the little lady dining together or walking hand in hand apparently oblivious of everything save their own happiness and the wonderful things to be seen in the cages which line the wall of the big menagerie tent.

EDITH'S OPPORTUNITY

She was about 10 years old and apparently very unhappy. A swollen face seemed to diagnose the case at a glance as an advanced stage of toothache. Over the door they entered was a sign, which being interpreted read "Doctor of Dental Surgery."

The mother led her to the operating chair and smoothed back her tousled hair as she laid her head in the little rest. Looking her straight in her eye, with finger poised for emphasis, the mother said: "Now, Edith, if you cry I'll never take you to a dentist again."—Lippincott's.

THREE FIRES BURNED SUGAR PINE TIMBER

About 10,000 Acres Covered by the Flames; Damage Was Small.

MADERA, Sept. 9.—P. C. Thiele came from Sugar Pine yesterday and reported that there were three fires in the vicinity of the mill last week. About 10,000 acres of timber were burned over, but as it was in a section that will be cut next year the loss will not be as great because most of the trees will be made into lumber before they can rot. It was fortunate that not a piece of machinery was destroyed, even the cables being saved by covering them with soil. The flames have been extinguished, although a patrol is maintained to prevent another outbreak.

Directors of the Fresno county fair and Press Agent Fly were here this evening to address a mass meeting on the benefits that will accrue to this county by having an exhibit at the Fresno fair. The fact that the Danish Brotherhood will meet in Fresno during fair week will furnish opportunity for Madera to become known in every state in the union through the delegates.

Admission Day was celebrated by the closing of stores and the flying of flags from the housetops, indicating the patriotism of the Madera people. As the postoffice, county offices and Wells Fargo express office were not doing business, the town was practically closed and little was doing. Several business men took advantage of the holiday to go to the state fair at Sacramento.

An engine hauling a through freight, went "dead" here yesterday by the breaking of the main axle. A repair crew came up from Fresno and worked all night to haul the engine to Fresno.

A. L. Sayre and P. C. Eastin were passengers for Sacramento today to attend the state fair, also A. Wehrmann.

Leon Price is spending a few days visiting his family here.

Mrs. P. C. Eastin and Leuna Skaggs went to Fresno this morning.

BROKE RIBS AND ARM IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. Cook and G. E. Garver, the Victims, Much Improved at McKittrick.

McKITTRICK, Cal., Sept. 9.—The condition of Dr. W. H. Cook and G. Earl Garver, who sustained serious injuries by the overturning of an automobile on Wednesday, while Dr. Cook was responding to a professional call, was much improved today. Dr. Cook had four ribs broken, and one of Mr. Garver's arms was fractured. Dr. C. W. Kellogg was summoned from Bakersfield and he removed Mr. Garver to that city for an X-ray examination. The accident was due to the auto skidding, and when it plunged into a deep ditch the gasoline became ignited. S. L. McClary, who accompanied Dr. Cook and Mr. Garver, rescued the latter, who had been caught underneath, and extinguished the flames before much damage had resulted. Dr. Cook was thrown some distance from the auto.

MASONIC TEMPLE BIDS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Figures Will Be Announced Next Week; Considered Not Excessive.

Bids for the erection of the new Masonic temple to be built by Fresno members of the order at the corner of Merced and K streets, were opened yesterday by the executive board of the corporation to have charge of the construction of the building, which will be a model of its kind. The plans were drawn by the firm of Starbuck & Wilde of Oakland.

The figures for the building have not been given out. Attorney George Cosgrave, a member of the committee, stated yesterday that a meeting would be held early next week, probably on Monday, after which the bids would be made public. The reason is that there are some details yet requiring discussion among the members of the committee.

Four or five bids were received, it was stated, all from local firms. The figures are not considered excessive and will be made public after the meeting.

HARRELL IS HANGED FOR DOUBLE MURDER

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 9.—Isaac N. Harrell was hanged here today for the murder of Walter and Herbert Newell. He made no statement from the gallows.

The crime for which Ike Harrell was hanged today was the murder of Walter Newell. He also killed Herbert Newell, brother of Walter, at the same time and place, but was not tried for this second murder.

The Newell boys, who were the owners of several thousand sheep, employed Harrel as herder. Early in June Harrell was discharged by Herbert Newell, and as the latter was writing a check in favor of Harrell for services, the herder shot him. Walter Newell witnessed the shooting and, running to his brother's assistance, was himself shot down. Herbert was only stunned by the first bullet and after Harrell had killed Walter he again shot Herbert and fled. Herbert, not yet dead, was able to crawl more than a half mile to his tent and there write a brief note describing the crimes. Herbert lay dying in the tent when Harrell again returned and blew off the top of his head.

A herder named Allen, also employed by the Newell boys, reported the crime and a posse started in pursuit of Harrell, who was captured fifty miles from the scene of the murders after a fight in which he was wounded.

Measurements of a Gun.

Many people are puzzled as to the difference between a 12 inch and a 13.5 inch gun. Guns are measured by the bore or calibre, just as motor car engine cylinders are. A 12 inch gun, therefore, is a gun that fires a shot which is 12 inches in diameter.

The length of a gun is reckoned in calibres. For instance, a 50 calibre 12 inch gun is one fifty times the length of its bore, that is to say, fifty feet long. A 50 calibre 6 inch gun would be twenty-five feet long, and so on.—From the London Standard.

HAMILTON INJURED BY FALL WHILE SPEEDING AEROPLANE

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—Charles K. Hamilton, one of the most famous of aviators, hero of the great race from Philadelphia to New York last June 13th and of other wonderful exploits of air navigation, was seriously and possibly fatally injured at the State Fair grounds in this city about 7 o'clock this evening, his new 115 horse-power biplane nearly crushing the life out of him when it crashed to the ground after a spectacular flight.

Hamilton met with two accidents today. The first occurred about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He attempted a flight from in front of the grand stand at the fair grounds, but the motor did not work well and the machine barely skimmed over the fence, lighting heavily in a field outside the grounds. After several hours' work it was thought that all repairs had been properly made. And early in the evening Hamilton made another ascent from the field outside the grounds. He circled the mile race track three times at great speed, racing an automobile, which was unable, however, to keep up with him. After the third round he attempted to alight, but the huge machine swooped down straight to the earth at an acute angle, dashing into the ground in full view of 20,000 spectators. Hamilton's wife was one of the witnesses.

The aviator was found unconscious and covered with blood under the six cylinder engine of the biplane. He was extricated by the excited crowd and sent to his hotel in an ambulance. The surgeons' examination failed to reveal any broken limbs. But the pelvic bone is thought to be fractured and serious internal injuries are believed to have resulted.

His face was badly lacerated, one eye being entirely closed. It was necessary to put him under the influence of opiates and the full extent of his injuries have not yet been ascertained. At midnight a consultation of surgeons was being held.

FLIGHT SPECTACULAR

Hamilton's flight tonight in which he met with serious injuries, was by far the most sensational he had given during the week. On his second lap around the course he reached an altitude of more than 200 feet, with his newly built 115 horse power bi-plane going at a terrific rate of speed.

On the third and last lap Hamilton started to descend near his tent in the center of the field and the machine was being maneuvered spirally in the descent. When within about 50 feet of the ground the engine refused to work and the bi-plane tipped and shot to earth like an arrow, burying Hamilton completely in the wreckage.

It was apparently Hamilton's intention to give his famous "swallow dip," which has been a feature of his flights here during the week. The aviator would approach within a few feet of the ground with engines going at full speed, and suddenly raise his planes and seek the higher altitudes. Owing to the semi-darkness of the field it was difficult to determine just what Hamilton intended doing when the accident occurred.

At a consultation of physicians held at midnight, after Hamilton had recovered from the effects of an opiate administered to ease the pain it was found impossible to fix the exact nature of internal injuries and during the examination remarked:

"Fix up the machine, boys, and I will make a flight tomorrow morning. I don't want to disappoint the crowd."

It was found that Hamilton had been severely bruised and cut all over the body and one leg had been burned by contact with a live wire during the descent. He was able to smoke a cigarette propped up in bed, but complained of great pain in the pelvic region.

Mrs. Hamilton, who fainted as she saw her husband crash to the ground, was in constant attendance at the hotel. Hamilton's first request to the physicians as soon as he was extricated from the wreck was that his mother in Connecticut be notified that his injuries were not serious.

It is believed the full extent of the internal injuries cannot be ascertained until an X-ray examination is made.

I. O. O. F. GRAND MASTER ON VISIT TO COALINGA

Hypnotist Is Arrested for Not Securing License to Give Performance.

COALINGA, Sept 9.—Grand Master T. W. Duckworth of the I. O. O. F of the state of California arrived in Coalinga today from San Bernardino to make an official visit to the local lodge of Odd Fellows. Duckworth will witness the work of the initiatory degree as put on by the local members at their lodge room this evening. Following the lodge session a banquet will be served and social session will be enjoyed. The grand master is visiting all the lodges in the state and will leave on the early train tomorrow to complete his circuit.

The interruption in the sale of tickets by the city marshal at the performance of a hypnotist named Caruthers at the Liberty theater last night, has caused considerable interest and comment to be aroused along the streets. The sale of seats was stopped by the marshal on the charge that the hypnotist had secured no license for his performance from the city and that as he was showing under his own responsibility, having leased the theater for two nights from the management of the house, he was not showing under the theater's license. However, after a short argument, the sale went on and the performance was given, but not until Caruthers was placed under arrest with the understanding that he appear before the justice this morning at 11 o'clock. As the judge was out of the city and did not return till the afternoon train the hypnotist did not appear before Judge Kerr till 2 o'clock. After an investigation of the case, Caruthers was told to go free and attend to his business affairs. The marshal stated that he was awaiting a decision from the city attorney, by which he would abide. Nothing will probably arise out of the affair.

UNION MAN ARRESTED ON DYNAMITE COUNT

Unionists Claim Is Result of Plot to Make Strike Unpopular.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—An incident connected with the strike of the union iron workers of this city occurred today when Patrolman Miercey discovered at daylight in the new county Hall of Records building two sticks of dynamite with fuses and caps attached. B. H. Connors, a union man who formerly worked on the building, was taken into custody while loitering in the vicinity. The police are making an investigation in the belief that an attempt was made to blow up the building.

The union men charged that the dynamite was placed in the building by some one desiring to discredit them, and assert that the strikers had nothing to do with it. The police say that some unknown man called the station on telephone and informed them that "union men were to make an attempt last night to blow up the Hall of Records with dynamite."

An investigation resulted in the arrest of Conners and the finding of the dynamite.

SHOW EX-SENATOR GOT MONEY FROM RAILWAYS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The charge that thousands of dollars have been deposited to his credit by representatives of street railway interests was made before the investigation committee of the legislature today against former Senator Goodsell of Orange county.

Extracts from the books of the brokerage firm of Ellingwood and Cunningham showed that in less than five years the former senator had $24,800 placed to his credit and that at least $13,300 of this amount had been furnished by officials of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company of this city and the New York Street Railway Association.

The committee adjourned until Wednesday.

RHEUMATISM
PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and corpuscles, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The briny, acrid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon; but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S. S. S. cures the disease because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation, and removes every particle of the irritating uric acid, builds up the blood, makes it rich and oily, and in this way prepares it for the proper nourishment of all joints, muscles, nerves and bones. If you have Rheumatism, get the uric acid out of the blood by taking S. S. S., a purely vegetable medicine, and enjoy freedom from its misery. SOLICITOR GENERAL BOWERS PASSES AWAY

Dies From Complications Following Upon an Attack of Bronchitis.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers died here at 11.30 a. m. today of complications arising from an attack of bronchitis. The solicitor general had been ill about two weeks.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Death came suddenly while Bowers was talking with his family. A blood clot in the heart caused almost instant death. Mrs. Bowers, a son and the nurse were present. The family had been staying at the Hotel Touraine in this city for a fortnight. The solicitor general was 51 years old.

He was appointed solicitor general by President Taft on March 22, 1909. The appointment was one of the first official acts as President of Mr. Taft, who had long held Mr. Bowers in high regard. The solicitor general was one of the first men known to have been in the mind of the President for appointment to fill one of the existing vacancies on the United States Supreme Court bench.

Daily reports concerning the condition of the sick man have been encouraging and only yesterday the prospects of his being able to leave the hotel were discussed.

Dr. Frederick Coggshall said the original illness of Mr. Bowers, which took the form of a violent cold, was due to overwork. Tonsilitis developed and an abscess on one of the tonsils necessitated an operation, the effects of which were too severe for the weakened system to throw off.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Lloyd W. Bowers was graduated from Yale in 1879 and from the Columbia Law School in 1882. He was general counsel of the Chicago Northwestern in 1892, and lastly solicitor general of the United States in charge of the government's business before the highest judicial tribunal of the country.

He was born at Springfield, Mass., March 9, 1859. The Bowers family was prominent in Massachusetts and included many clergymen and teachers.

HUGHES WON'T BE CHIEF.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—If Governor Hughes is to be made chief justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, he will be promted from an associate judgeship.

Reports that the nomination of the governor as an assistant justice would be withdrawn and his name sent to the Senate as chief justice have been put to rest by arrangements that the New York executive has been making to take up his duties on the bench on the second Monday in October.

As Congress does not convene until December next, the justice will have at least two months to serve in a subordinate position on the bench.

U. S. OFFICER, IN BIG FOUR SCANDAL, OUSTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Frank M. Couden, cashier in the office of the surveyor of customs at Cincinnati, whose name was prominently mentioned in the Warriner embezzlement scandal in the Big Four railway, was discharged from the government service today.

The temporary suspension of Couden was announced several weeks ago and the order making it permanent came from Secretary MacVeigh at Dublin, N. H., to Assistant Secretary Hilles today. Couden's removal is ordered in specific charge of insubordination, in that he absented himself without leave from his office.

SCHOOL BICYCLES

We have a fine bunch of school bikes that we are offering at the lowest prices. The prices range from $13 and we will sell them on payments of

$1.00 Per Week

We have a nice bunch of 2nd hand bikes that we will sell on payments of $1.00 to $5.00 down and $1 per week. Pretty easy way to get the children a bike to ride to school. They wear out that much shoe leather, you know, and don't get any place either unless they ride a bike.

If the old bike needs fixing up there is where we shine. We do more repair work in a day than some of these sleepers do in a week, and say, we have men who know how.

We have a new bunch of tires that we are selling for $2.00. Better get in while the water is fine.

CARLISLE LOSES BALL IN GRASS FOR HOMER

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—Vernon took the second game of the double-header this afternoon. Raleigh and Whalen opposed each other and both were hit hard. In the eighth inning, with the score tied, Carlisle of Vernon hit the ball into the grass near the right field fence and before fielders could locate the ball he had completed the circuit for a home run. This lucky homer won the game for Vernon. The score:

"KIT" CARSON BLANKS SENATORS IN MORNING

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—Kit Carson was an enigma to the Sacramento batters in the morning game today and easily blanked the locals by a score of 3 to 0, allowing them three scattered hits. The Senators played a listless article of ball, two of the three Vernon runs being caused by careless fielding on the part of Briggs and Berry. Fitzgerald issued all his passes to Brashear and two of them proved fatal. The score:

WAR BALLOONS FAIL.

FRIEDRICH, Holland, Prussia, Sept. 9.—The two dirigible baloons used for aerial scout duty by the opposing armies in the imperial maneuvers failed grievously today, one crew leading its army into an ambuscade, while the other crew fell into the hands of the enemy when the motor of its machine gave out. The invading army triumphed.

UHLAN, SENSATIONAL TROTTER, STEPS MILE IN 2:01 1-4 FOR A WORLD'S RECORD WITH A SULKY

CHARTER OAK PARK, HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—Breaking the world's trotting record in an exhibition mile by a horse driven to wagon and without shield, was the feat accomplished at Charter Oak Park this afternoon by Uhlan, 1:58¾, driven by C. K. G. Billings of New York.

Uhlan was paced by a runner and negotiated the mile in 2:01¼. The task undertaken was to break the record established by Hamburg Belle, of 2:01¾.

The performance of the gelding today is considered the best of his career. The mark of 1:58¾ was made at Cleveland under track conditions decidedly more favorable than those of today, for the surface of the course here was soaked owing to the heavy rains of the early week. A strong wind also swept the course.

The mile was traveled today in a magnificent form and the great crowd was on its feet most of the time. As the horses swept into the stretch, the runner found it difficult to maintain a lead and as Uhlan passed under the wire, a great cheer arose from the grand stand, although it was not then known that the track record had been broken.

When the time was flashed the enthusiasm was renewed and Billings was given an ovation.

The time by quarters follows:

First, 30¾; second, 1:00¼; third, 1:32½; fourth, 2:01¼.

The other feature was the breaking of the track record by The Harvester in the free-for-all trot.

The Harvester won in straight heats, the time in the second and final heat being 2:03, which broke the track record of 2:04¾, made by Hamburg Belle.

RESULTS.

2:16 pace, purse $1,000, three in five—Sarah Ann Patch won in straight heats. Time, 2:08¾, 2:09¼, 2:10. Dirt, second; Major Strong, third.

2:16 trot, purse $2,500, three in five—Dudie Archdale won in three straight heats. Time, 2:10, 2:10, 2:09¾. Willy, second; Sable Maid, third.

Free-for-all trot, purse $2,500, two in three—The Harvester won in two straight heats. Time, 2:06, 2:03. Bob Douglass, second; Sonoma Girl, third.

2:17 trot, purse $1,000, two in three—Rebecca G. won second and third heats and race. Time, 2:11¼, 2:15. Senator Hale won the first heat. Time, 2:12¾. Orlena third.

GROVER BRANT, OF COYOTES, LEADS PITCHERS IN RAISIN BELT LEAGUE; TRIPPETT NEXT

Grover Brant, the clever local pitcher who was brought to the front by Manager Art Bennett of the Republican team, carried off the hurling honors in the season just brought to a close in the Raisin Belt League. Art Bennett secured Brant from the local high school team. From the Republicans the youngster went to the Madera Coyotes, where he made good. During the season, Brant won six games and lost but one. He struck out a total of sixey-seven, a splendid record. Southpaw Trippett of the Hanford Braves ranks second in the number of games won and lost. The following table is official, having been compiled in the office of President Garman of the league. The various columns are indicated as follows: W. means won; L. lost; S.O. strikeouts; B.B., base on balls; H.B., hit batter; W. P., wild pitch; R.O., runs off; H.O., hits off; I.P., innings pitched.

OAKS FALL BEFORE WORK OF VEAN GREEG OF PORTLAND TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Vean Gregg was in the box for Portland this afternoon at Recreation Park, and Oakland lost the second game of the double-header, 5 to 1.

Greg allowed only five hits, struck out eleven men and made it impossible for the Oaklanders to play even a fair game of ball. Harkins performed well for his team, but Wolverton's men booted the ball to the tune of four costly errors and the run-getting was the easiest part of the task for the men from the north. The score:

MAY SUTTON WINS FROM MISS HAZEL HOTCHKISS

Ex-Champion Will Lineup Against Sister, Miss Florence, Today.

DEL MONTE, Sept. 9.—Miss May Sutton and Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, each of whom has won the women's tennis championship of the United States, played here today for the privilege of challenging Miss Florence Sutton tomorrow for the Del Monte championship. Miss Hotchkiss, the present holder of the national title, lost today's hard fought match in the presence of a gallery of nearly a thousand enthusiastic spectators.

Three sets were played and in each every point was vigorously contested. Extra games were necessitated in the opening struggle, Miss Sutton finally winning, 7-5. Miss Hotchkiss took the second, 1-6 but lost the third, 6-1.

Melville Long defeated Gerald Young in the men's singles today, capturing the championship of the Del Monte tournament and giving him the privilege of challenging George J. Janes for the Pacific coast championship. The match was comparatively easy for Long, the score resulting 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

In the semi-finals of the men's doubles, Long and Sinsabaugh defeated Hotchkiss and Finnigan, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

BEN HUNT, LATE OF SENATORS, LOSES HIS GAME

Coombs Saves Day for the Athletics; Yanks in Second Place.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Coombs shut out the locals today and Philadelphia won its third straight from Boston, 2 to 0. The score:

	R	H	E
Philadelphia	2	4	1
Boston	0	6	1

Coombs and Lapp; Hunt and Madden.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—Chicago and St. Louis split the double-header of the series today. Chicago won the first game, 8 to 1, and lost the second, 5 to 2. The score:

(First game.)

	R	H	E
Chicago	8	11	0
St. Louis	1	2	5

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—New York coupled a double and a single with two errors and a wild pitch in the ninth inning and defeated Washington, 3 to 1. The score:

	R	H	E
Washington	1	8	2
New York	3	6	0

Gray and Ainsmith; Fisher, Caldwell, Vaughn and Sweeney.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Detroit won from Cleveland today, 5 to 2. Detroit took a winning lead in the third when with two out Fanwell issued four passes which with Delehanty's single and Crawford's double netted four runs. The score:

Cleveland	2	8	1
Detroit	5	6	1

Fanwell, Demott and Land; Donovan and Casey.

LITTLE DICK IS WINNER OF THE 2:15 PACE AT THE STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—In the closest finish witnessed on the track at Agricultural park in many months Little Dick outpaced four opponents in the 2:15 class event here today and took first money. Vera Hal was second and Chiro Prince third. The time was unusually good considering the poor condition of the track and a stiff breeze against which the horses had to pace most of the day. The best time was 2:09½.

SUMMARY

2:15 class pace.

Little Dick, ch. g. (Verlach) 4 2 1 1 1

2:14 pacing, consolation stakes, $1000—Junior Dan Patch, won; Chiquita, second; Lou Miller, third. Best time, 2:08¾. Chiquita turned a somersault, scoring in the second heat, but neither horse nor driver was injured.

2:25 pacing, best 3 in 5, purse $800—Ella Erickson, won; King Bird, second; Hal Mont, third. Best time, 2:11¼.

Five-eighths mile dash, running, 3-year-olds and up—Won by Captain Palley; Discus, second; Mr. Hose, third. Time, 1:01¼.

U. S. INFANTRY TEAM WINS BIG RIFLE SHOOT.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Sept. 9.—In the rifle tourney here the Dryden trophy match was won by the United States Infantry team with a score of 1065, out of a possible 1200 points. The standing of the teams at the end of the match was as follows:

1—United States Infantry	1065
2—New York	1060
3—District of Columbia	1056
4—New Jersey	1070
5—United States Cavalry	1051

FRED CLARKE, PIRATES' GREAT LEADER, WHO WILL BE OUT OF GAME FOR REST OF SEASON

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—The world's champion Pirates will play through the remainder of the season without the active services of Manager Fred Clarke. The noble captain says that he has retired for 1910. The withdrawal of Clarke from active playing is admittedly brought about by the vicious censure to which he was subjected on August 29, when the champions lost two games to the New Yorks. The crowd, which had been roasting Clarke unmercifully in these games, became abusive in the ninth inning, when Clarke was at bat, and loudly demanded the substitution of Hyatt, an outfielder. Clarke's reply to the knockers was a double. Clarke has declined to discuss the matter further than to say that for the rest of the season he "will play on the bench."

JOCKEY RETTIG'S CLEVER RIDE ON MULHOLLAND WINS 5TH RACE

OVERLAND PARK, Colo., Sept. 9.—The feature of today's races at Overland was Rettig's ride on Fred Mulholland in the fifth. Off next to last, Rettig trailed the field to the stretch, where the leaders ran out, when he forced the big black gelding at the opening on the pole and lifted him home a head in front of Gene Russell, who beat Lady McNally a neck for the place.

RESULTS

First race, five furlongs, purse—Rue won; Helen Hawkins second; Pearl Bass third. Time 1:01 4-5.

Second race, five furlongs, selling—Preen won; Ron Sun second; Burning Bush, third. Time 1:01.

Third race, five furlongs, selling—Kiamesha II, won; St. Joe second; Elder third. Time 1:00 3-5.

Fourth race, seven furlongs, selling—Father Stafford won; Cavellena second; Mrs. Nugent third. Time 1:28 2-5.

Fifth race, mile, selling—Fred Mulholland won; Gene Russell second; Lady McNally third. Time 1:40 2-5.

TULARE LOSES BATTLE AFTER TWELVE ROUNDS

(Special to the Republican.)

TULARE, Sept. 9.—The Drillers had all the luck today in the opening game of the series and the Merchants were humbled, 2 to 1, in twelve rounds of exciting ball. The locals pounded Meikel for thirteen hits, but fast fielding kept the score down. Southpaw Buckles allowed eight hits. Tracy and Lynch, late of the Visalia Pirates, played with Tulare.

P. Kelly scored Tulare's single run in the fifth when he reached first on an attempted sacrifice. Eagle's hit sent Kel to second, from where he scored on Harry Tracy's drive over the infield. In the ninth, Meikle saved his own game by smashing out a triple. An overthrow to third by Eagle permitted Meikle to spike the rubber with the tying run. In the twelfth, Carman singled and reached third on two outs. Scruggs broke up the battle with a single.

Tomorrow Griffin will pitch for the visitors, with Oscar Jones opposing.

EX-CHAMP. TOMMY BURNS MAY NEVER FIGHT AGAIN

Strains Tendon in Right Knee While Playing Lacrosse Match.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 9.—As a result of injuries received in the Labor Day lacrosse game between Vancouver and New Westminster, Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, may retire from the ring. He is matched with Sam Langford for a bout in London in December, the winner to meet Jack Johnson later, either in England or Australia, but it is a question whether the Canadian will ever be seen in the ring again.

During the game on Monday, Burns strained a tendon in his right knee. He did not pay any attention to the injury at the time, but it steadily became worse, and next morning he could not move the injured leg. He called in expert medical advice, but the knee has swollen and stiffened so that he has difficulty in walking with the assistance of a cane. It will be two months at the least before he will be able to do any training.

"My right knee has been bad for years, but as long as my right leg was good I was all right," said Burns. "Now th right knee is gone. I will give it a trial, but if it does not come around I am through. I have plenty of money and do not need to fight."

ANGELS GIVE MIDGET BROWNING A BEATING

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—The Angels' half of the third inning of the afternoon game today was a Waterloo for the San Francisco Seals, who were shut out, 5 to 0. Ten Dillonites went to bat in that session, and all the five runs were scored before the third man went down. On their part, the Seals were unable to hit Criger effectively, their total being four bingles, widely scattered. The score:

FORWARD PASS WILL BE FEATURE OF FOOTBALL THIS YEAR IN THE EAST.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Reports reaching here from Mount Gretna, Pa., where the University of Pennsylvania football squad is practicing under the new rules, indicate the purpose of the coaches to make the forward pass the feature of this year's play with the one-side kick also a favorite.

Dr. Carl Williams, one of the coaches who was instrumental in so formulating the rules that both plays were included, has arrived at the training field.

COMMERCIAL

EASTERN QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Evaporated apples firm; fancy 10½@11c; choice 9½@9¾c; prime 8@8¼c; common to fair 7@8c.

Supplies of prunes on the coast are comparatively small; demand is quiet. Quotations 3½@10 for California fruit, up to 30-40s and from 5 to 9½ c for Oregons.

Apricots unchanged; choice 10½@11½c; extra choice 11½@12¼; fancy 12@15½c.

Peaches steady; choice 7@9½; extra choice 7¼@9¾; fancy 9@9½.

Raisins firm; loose Muscatels 3¾@6¾; choice to fancy seeded 5@6¾, seedless 4¼@6½, London layers $1.20@1.25.

CHICAGO.— World's shipments expected to be the largest on record proved a heavy load on wheat prices today. The close was at a net decline of ⅛ to ⅝@⅞, although other grain was on the rise. Corn at the wind up was ⅛@⅜ higher to ⅜ lower, oats ¼ dearer to a shade off and provisions unchanged to 20c advance.

The closing hour and the first thirty minutes of the session were the weakest periods of the day in the wheat pit. During most of the intervening time shorts covered freely, much strength coming from cotton which was being influenced by cold weather and big shipping and export sales. Wheat speculators, however, recurred constantly to the unprecedented total of world's shipments, 17,600,000 bushels. These figures were contrasted with 13,376,000 last week and 9,600,000 bushels a year ago. Australia, Argentina, India, Russia and the Danube all seemed to be trying to outdo each other in furnishing supplies.

Primary receipts in this country, especially in the northwest, showed some diminution but the fact, though important, was discounted or ignored as exports have been undeniably light. An additional element of weakness was found in millers' report confirming statements that winter wheat acreage was being greatly increased. December fluctuations ranged from 99⅞@$1.00 to $1.00⅛, with close at $1 over. A general [illegible] ing occurred in the domestic and export corn trade. Frost was officially predicted for tonight in the leading corn states. Vessel room has been chartered here for one million bushels. The December option sold between 65⅛ and 66⅜c, closing firm ⅛ to ⅜@⅝ up at 65⅞@⅞c.

Cash business was depressed early but became active and advanced later. No. 2 yellow closed at 67⅛@⅝c.

Big sales were the order of the day in the oats pit. December varied from 34⅜@⅝c to 35¼@⅝c and finished ⅛c higher at 35c.

Provision dealers gave a bullish construction to the government report on the number of holdings being fattened for market.

Pork and ribs unchanged to an 8d advance of 10c.

ST. LOUIS.—Wool quiet, medium grades combing and clothing 23@24c; light fine 19@21; heavy fine 15@17; tub washed 29@33.

NEW YORK.—Wheat, spot barely steady; futures closed ⅛ to ⅜ net lower; September closed 104⅛; December closed 107⅝; May closed 112¾. Receipts 9600, shipments 28,205.

Hides quiet.

Petroleum quiet.

Raw sugar steady; Muscovado 89 test $3.86; centrifugal 96 test $4.36; molasses sugar 89 test $3.86; refined sugar steady.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The contingent of professional board room traders which has made up the recent stock market shown a dwindling tendency. The discouragement of efforts to move prices proves too much. Listless indifference to every variety of news developments becomes more and more pronounced. That the stagnation of the stock market is not expected to be merely temporary is shown by the general reduction of office and clerical forces which is going on amongst brokerage houses.

The price of stock exchange seats is falling as another index of the low ebb to which purely stock market operations have fallen. The meager daily transactions are made up in large portion of transactions between board room members themselves and upwards of half of the total is concentrated in two or three stocks.

The good promise for the crops found in yesterday's government reports on grains was responsible for an undertone of firmness in today's market. The sensitiveness of opinion on the crops was indicated, however, by the rise in the price of corn in official predictions of frosts in portions of the corn belt tonight.

Yesterday's unfavorable copper statistics were reflected in a decline in the London price of the metal market. Copper industrials were almost immovable in New York in common with the rest of the market.

Forecasts of the currency movement indicated a decrease in bank cash for the week of not over $3,000,000 compared with estimates last week of $10,000,000.

Business for the day made a low record of activity for the year.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,363,000.

THE NEW YORK TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—R. G. Dun's Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

There is a continuance of former mixed conditions of trade and industry which is less pronounced in productive sections than in the distributing markets. It shows most clearly in the speculative and financial centers which are exceedingly sensitive to political influences. It was felt in some industries more than in others, there being an uneven development of trade. But in spite of the reaction, a vast aggregate of business is being carried on, making a really high average of transactions.

The profit of commerce, however, is not so evident as its volume, the margin between cost and price being narrowed and lending in some cases, notably in cotton spinning, to suspension of operations. While conservatism among buyers makes for purchases limited to current needs, yet there is no sign of any collapse of confidence, the crops are turning out much better than was feared, the banks are in a secure position and there is for the most part a more optimistic feeling.

Some check to the recent rapid decline in pig iron production is indicated by the returns covering the output during August, which, while showing the smallest total since July, 1909, compared closely with the figures for the previous month.

Reports from leading jobbers of dry-goods indicates a steadier distribution but the volume of business is still below that of recent active years. Mills making cotton goods are still conservative in their desire to operate for stock goods, and curtailment is going on steadily. Some export business is being done with Australia, the Philippines and South America, but trade with the Far East is dull. Distinct improvement is noted for silks and the iron trade is on a steadier footing. Footwear lines continue steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Developments of the week have been largely favorable, including better weather and corn reports, a larger distribution of fall goods by jobbers and retailers, more cheerful reports from the iron and steel trade, some resumption of textile mills, reduction in the number of idle cars and a shading in prices of leading farm products.

All these have combined to make for a more optimistic feeling in general trade and industrial lines, but in financial circles there is little apparent gain in activity or strength.

The enlargement in jobbing and retail trade is not entirely uniform. Best reports come from the West, where unprecedented marketing of cereals at good prices help trade and collections. On the Pacific coast more is doing in trade but collections still lag.

The cotton movement has begun in the South and trade and collections feel some impetus therefrom.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending September 8 were 183, against 179 last week and 119 in the like week of 1909; 1908, 198; 172 in 1907 and 164 in 1906.

Business failures in Canada for the week number 17 which compares with 25 for last week and 25 for the corresponding week last year.

Wheat including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending September aggregate 1,856,080 bushels against 1,924,188 last week and 2,615,685 this week year. Corn exports for the week are 276,452 bushels against 216,403 last week and 82,972 in 1909.

TREASURY BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The condition of the treasury at the beginning of business today was as follows.

Trust funds—Gold coin $591,266,669; silver dollars $452,192,900; silver dollars of 1890 $3,581,000; silver certificates outstanding $486,599,000.

General fund—Standard silver dollars in general fund $60,890,813; current liabilities $67,430,745; working balance in treasury offices $52,058,184; in banks to credit of treasurer of the United States $35,835,344; subsidiary silver coin $20,208,824; minor coin $498,652; total balance in general fund $91,581,065.

HORSE TRIES TO ROB MAILS.

Near-Sighted Animal Mistook Box for Home Feeding Place.

A near-sighted dapple gray horse named Dan today mistook a rural free delivery letter box for a box of oats and tried to eat it up. The horse, which formerly belonged to the Paterson fire department, was being driven by its present owner, Herman Hackstuhl, a farmer, who was on his way to Allamuchy to buy a young pig. Hackstuhl, when it began to rain, reined up beneath a giant elm tree in front of Si Snodgrass' home. At home the horse is usually fed oats out of a gray box something the color of a letter box.

Having left the oats box at the house, Hackstuhl went into Snodgrass' to borrow a meal for Dan. The horse, meantime, saw the letter box and stepped up and took a bite. The animal's teeth broke off the top of the mail receptacle and exposed to view and rain the assortment of letters.

One bite satisfied the horse, which let go of the box and backed off. Hackstuhl and Snodgrass picked up the crushed top and stuck it on, then telephoned for the carrier, who was enjoying a Sunday afternoon rest. The carrier is talking of arresting the old horse on the charge of attempting to rob the mails.

When Dan was a fire horse he several times was caught pulling out the trap that permitted oats to run down a chute in the fire house, and in this way he had obtained several good meals. If Dan got loose in his stall by any means he always sought out the feed chute and was an adept at pulling out the slide, which brought down the desired feed. It was suggested to Hackstuhl that maybe the horse mistook the letter box for an oats chute, but he said the letter box was a duplicate of the pasteboard box used for feeding the animal.—New York Press.

LOANS AND LUXURIES.

In the complaints that bankers and brokers make of the extravagance of the people mention is made as a rule only of automobiles. If trouble appears in the financial and industrial worlds it is reasonably certain that the motor craze will have to bear the blame. The case has been made out in advance.

Doubtless automobiles are owned or used by many who can hardly afford them, but there is reason to believe that the lamentations over their cost and waste have been considerably overdone. If they are luxuries they are not the only ones to which Americans are addicted. Our imports of diamonds, wines, tobacco, silks and laces during the fiscal year just closed amounted in value to more than $250,000,000, the largest on record. During the same period there were consumed in this country 123,000,000 gallons of whiskey, 59,000,000 barrels of beer and ale, 8,000,000,000 cigars and 7,000,000,000 cigarettes. The tax paid on domestic liquors and tobacco amounted to $259,725,014.

It will not do for our financiers to single out one popular vanity and attribute to that all evils past and in prospect. As a matter of fact, more is to be said in favor of the automobile than can be urged in behalf of some other modern conveniences and indulgences. In many cases its use is economical. It is an engine of business as well as of pleasure. Not dissolute joy alone but health and recreation sit at its levers. In the country and in the towns it serves for the most part a necessity and beneficent purpose.

Taking notice as they were bound to do of the occasional misuse of credit to permit of lavish expenditure for motoring, many bankers have sharply restricted or refused loans for such purposes. It is to be noted in this connection, however, that throughout the West, acting on New York's initiative, they have also refused loans on wheat worth a dollar a bushel, thus forcing it upon the market. When we consider the propriety of speculating in grain or of owning automobiles, it appears to make a good deal of difference who does it. Drawing the line on the farmer in these respects, our financiers need not be surprised if they hear from his disagreeably later.—From New York World.

THE THIRD DEGREE.

Prof. Burdick Accuses Police of Extorting Confessions by Torture.

"Being somewhat familiar with this country, and having witnessed arrests in such cities as New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco, and comparing the treatment accorded to the rougher class of petty wrongdoers in America with the methods of the police in London (Whitechapel district), Paris, Berlin and even Constantinople (during the revolution of 1908), I believe there is no doubt that the American policeman leads the world in his unnecessary and brutal use of the club.

"Brushing aside these minor matters, what about the treatment of prisoners arrested for felonies, from whom the police desire to obtain evidence. The mere arrest may be quietly made, but then comes, in many cases, that American iniquity known as 'the sweatbox,' 'the third degree.'

"A Chinaman is arrested for a heinous crime. He is placed in a cell; continually questioned by a relay of detectives and other officials; forcefully kept without sleep for two or more days, in the expectation that the mental torture and the physical exhaustion will become so acute that he will be glad to confess in order to obtain relief.

"A woman is arrested for murder; at midnight the corpse of the victim is brought to her cell, that the dramatic horror of the scene may compel her to 'confess.'

"Another prisoner is denied food, another is brutally beaten, 'slugged' is the word, until he is forced to speak. Other atrocities are practiced, such as highly salting the food, and denying water to the victims; placing them in solitary confinement, or in bitterly cold cells, when the weather aids, or in frightfully superheated rooms at other times. Red pepper has been blown into their cells and other indignities too numerous to mention perpetrated in order that a 'confession' may be tortured from the helpless wretch."—Prof. W. L. Burdick in the Yale Law Journal.

AMAZON TOMBS FOUND.

Women Buried in Panoply of War Beneath Their Chariots.

Camilla, the Amazon queen of the Volscians, has been purged of the suspicion that she was merely a poetic figment of Virgil's imagination by the discovery at Belmonte, by Prof. Dall 'Osso, of the sepulchers of the two women warriors.

The discovery was reported briefly by telegraph, but now further details are available of the women who fought and died eight centuries before the time of Christ.

The district which is being excavated is rich in relics of old Etruria, and the existence of Amazons there is proved by the fact that the two women whose remains have been discovered were buried in their panoply of war beneath their chariots in exactly the same way as the fighting men whose skeletons have been unearthed.

The first Amazon tomb which the professor opened was 15 feet long, 8 feet wide, and 10 feet deep. The two-horsed chariot which shrouded the skeleton was ornamented with bronze and iron, the yoke was metaled and the bronze bits of the horses were still intact.

The crouching skeletons had been covered with a rich mantle and various objects, but the damp and the earth had welded them into a solid mass which it was hard to disentangle.

Four pairs of amber earrings threaded on wire lay near the head, round the neck were various collars and chains of amber, bronze, and ivory, and a quantity of acorn-shaped drops were found, which probably formed a diadem around the forehead and hung in tassels over the ears.

The tomb also contains ornamental objects and a quantity of arms, lance-heads, daggers, and a javelin, while some of the numerous vases of bronze and terra cotta would suggest a date as early as the eighth century B. C. for the tomb.—Philadelphia North American.

THE CRUCIBLE

O. Henry did not often express himself in verse. The following is one of two poems found in a notebook after his death. In the first pages of the book was the other poem. At the end of the book, with blank pages between, came "The Crucible."

Hard ye may be in the tumult,
Red to your battle hilts,
Blow gave for blow in the foray,
Cunningly ride in the tilts;
But when the roaring is ended,
Tenderly, unbegulled,
Turn to a woman a woman's
Heart, and a child's to a child.

Test of the man, if his worth be
In accord with the ultimate plan,
That he be not to his marring,
Always and utterly man;
That he bring out of the tumult,
Flitter and undefiled,
To woman the heart of a woman,
To children the heart of a child.

Good when the bugles are ranting
If is to be iron and fire;
Good to be oak in the foray,
Ice to a guilty desire,
But when the battle is over (Marvel and wonder the while)
Give to a woman a woman's Heart, and a child's to a child.

—O Henry's last poem in Cosmopolitan.

AFTER THE VISIT.

Come again to the place
Where your presence was as a waft that skims
Down a droughty way whose ascent bedims
The bloom on the farer's face.

Come again, with the feet
That were light on the lawn as a thistle-down ball,
And those mute ministrations to one
and to all,
Beyond the tongue's saying sweet.

Until then the faint scent
Of the bordering flowers swarm unheeded away,
And I marked not the charm in the changes of day
As the cloud-shadows come and went.

Through the dusk corridors
Your walk was so soundless I did not know
Your form from a phantom's of long ago
Said to glide on the ancient floors

Till you drew from the shade,
And I saw the great luminous living eyes
Regard me in fixed inquiring-wise,
Even as those of a soul that weighed

Scarcely consciously
The eternal question of what life was,
And why we were there, and what sad, strange laws
Made us crave that which could not be!
—Thomas Hardy, in the Spectator.

[illegible] KILLS BABY

Drug Clerk Gave "Lysol", a Poison, Instead of "Laxol."

Dennis Shea, 1 year old, died yesterday in convulsions at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Shea, on the third floor of the apartment house, 231 East Ninety-sixth street, after having swallowed a spoonful of medicine. The police assert the baby's death was caused by the mistake of a drug clerk, and are searching for him.

Late Sunday the baby was taken ill with a stomach complaint. His condition improved and when the family physician, Dr. T. A. Gonzales, called yesterday, he said the baby could be taken out for an airing after a small quantity of medicine was given it. He wrote a prescription for half an ounce of "laxol" a harmless cathartic.

Mrs. Shea sent her daughter Hannah, aged 8, to the drug store conducted by H. L. Berger, at Second avenue and Ninety-sixth street, for the medicine. Ira H. Cantor, a clerk, is alleged to have been on duty at the time and in filling the prescription gave half an ounce of "lysol" instead of "laxol". He put three labels on the bottle, one of which was "poison" mark, and another that the contents were for external use only.

When the bottle arrived Mrs. Shea looked at the labels but paid no heed to them, supposing they had probably been put on by mistake. "The doctor ordered this," she said to her daughter, "and whatever Dr. Gonzales orders is all right."

After tasting the drug, which burned the tip of her tongue, she administered a spoonful to the baby. He was taken with convulsions, and Mrs. Shea sent her daughter to warn the drug clerk. Cantor looked up the prescription and discovered his error. He then sent an antidote and instructions as to how the child should be treated. While Mrs. Shea was working over the child, Cantor telephoned to the offices of a number of physicians in the neighborhood and succeeded in summoning Dr. Isaac Stern, of 106 East Ninety-sixth street.

Dr. Stern rushed to the house and tried to save the baby's life but it died. He reported the circumstances to the coroner and an investigation was ordered. The police were called in and when they went to the drug store were told Cantor had left. The proprietor, Berger, said Cantor had telephoned to him at his home and requested that he go to the store at once. When Cantor told his employer of the accident, he instructed the clerk to give himself up.

Dr. Gonzales says that when he returned to his office, 1456 Lexington avenue, in the afternoon, he was met by Cantor, who asked him for a substitute prescription. The physician says Cantor wanted one calling for "lysol." It was refused. Cantor went away and is supposed to have gone to his home at Rockaway. A policeman was sent there to arrest him last night.

Coroner Hollenstein has instructed Dr. T. Lehane to perform an autopsy today to learn the cause of the baby's death. No specific charge has been made against Cantor, but if caught he will be held until the coroner ends his investigation.—New York American.

VICE IN DES MOINES.

Never So "Wide Open" as Under Present "Ideal Administration."

The second administration of Des Moines under the commission form of government seems to be having its difficulties. Just as the magazine writers have finished telling us how graft and vice could not exist under the model Des Moines plan and that the Iowa metropolis would afford the world an example of a municipality without spot or blemish, along comes a local reform organization charging that the town was never run so "wide open" as at present and demanding the removal of the chief of police. Sworn accusations presented to the city council declare that the head of the police department has given his consent to the operation of numerous gambling and other disorderly resorts, and that he has instructed his subordinates not to interfere with these establishments. It is charged also that the chief has been asked by the citizens to do his duty in the matter, but has steadfastly refused to take any steps for the preservation of law and order.

During the first two years of the new form of government Des Moines enjoyed the services of one of the best police chiefs in the country. He had made a record for "sitting on the lid," with the encouragement of John L. Hamery, head of the department of public safety, that won the unqualified approval of the best element in the community. When the new council of five came into office one of its first acts was to depose the capable chief and install the incumbent. This action on the part of men who were supposed to exemplify the latest idea in good government did not seem very encouraging. Now the people whose protests at the time were unheeded are remarking, "We told you so."

This is the first serious emergency with which the new Des Moines administration has been confronted, and it is significant to note how the council of five is meeting its responsibility. The propriety of suspending the official until the truth or the falsity of the accusation could be determined was suggested, but the five members of the council are enmeshed in a quarrel. A majority vote is required to suspend a subordinate. The mayor or the head of the police department cannot take this action. The council at first evinced a disposition to engage in a five-cornered fight over some matters of minor importance and to ignore the serious charges against the leading official, but the pressure of public opinion finally forced it to put the police chief on trial. It begins to look as if perhaps commission government for cities might not come up to the advance notices as a cure-all for municipal ills.—From Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

WHEN WORDS FAILED.

Robert Burton, an antique dealer, appeared at Marlborough street police court to prosecute Frederick William Hopne, a watchmake, on a chage of stealing an organette, some spoons, carvers, pictures and ornaments.

The evidence showed that the prosecutor gave the prisoner shelter, after knowing him for twenty years, when he was destitute. The articles were missed, and on Hopner being spoken to about them he went away. Mr. Burton then wrote him a letter, in which he said:

"You are a black villain, worse than Dr. Crippen; a mean, cringing, hypocritical black villain; a mealy mouthed hypocrite. I cannot find words to express my opinion of you."

Magistrate Mead remarked: "You have done very well." and those in court laughed. They also smiled when the reply of the prisoner to that letter was read. It contained the sentence, "I fainted when I read it."

The articles were pledged.—From the Pall Mall Gazette.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

In the Superior Court of the County of Fresno, State of California.

In the matter of the Guardianship of Joseph Vander, an incompetent person.

Paul E. Vandor, the guardian of the estate of Joseph A. Vandor, an incompetent person, having filed his petition herein praying for an order to sell a one-fourth (¼) interest of said incompetent in and to lots numbered twenty-five (25) and twenty-six (26) in block twenty-two (22) of Belmont Addition to the town, now city, of Fresno, as per map thereof now on file and of record in the office of the county recorder of the county of Fresno, State of California, it is therefore Ordered, by the judge of this court that all persons interested in the estate of said incompetent appear before said Superior Court on the 26 day of September, 1910, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., at the court room of said Superior court at the court house, in the county of Fresno to show cause why an order should not be granted to said guardian to sell the interest in the above described real estate of the said incompetent at private sale and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the Fresno Morning Republican, or a consent of all persons interested in said estate be filed in this court.

Dated this 20 day of August, 1910.

GEO. E. CHURCH,
Judge of the Superior Court.

EWING IS ENDORSED FOR CONGRESS; WON'T RUN

Democratic County Central Committee Urges His Nomination.

TELEGRAMS SENT OUT

People in District Urged to Request Attorney to Accept.

The executive committee of the Democratic county central committee, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, urged the Democratic state central committee and the congressional committee of the Sixth district to nominate D. S. Ewing as a candidate for Congress to run against James C. Needham. When apprised of the action of the county central committee, Ewing stated last night that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination.

The action of the executive committee also came as a surprise to him, although he had been mentioned as a possibility and it was not until last night that he became aware that he had been endorsed.

"I couldn't and wouldn't accept the office," declared Ewing in answer to a question as to whether he would become a candidate.

Immediately supplementing the passage of the resolution endorsing Ewing for Congress, the committee sent out thirty or forty telegrams last night to all parts of the Sixth district and even to prominent politicians in Visalia, asking them to flood Ewing with telegrams today urging him to accept the nomination if it is tendered him.

The resolution passed yesterday by the executive committee was as follows:

"Resolved, That this meeting of the Democratic county central committee strongly urges that the state Democratic central committee and the congressional committee of the Sixth district fill the vacancy in the Sixth congressional district by nominating David S. Ewing of Fresno."

Ewing's refusal to accept the nomination came as a complete surprise to the county central committee last night, but after a hurried telephonic conversation with members of the committee, it was decided to go ahead with the original plans and an effort will be made today to get Ewing to accept. It was not the intention of the committee to apprise Ewing of its action last night, as the members hoped to be able to bring pressure to bear through the telegrams which will come to Ewing today at the suggestion of the committee, urging him to accept.

GETTYSBURG'S PRIEST HERO TO HAVE STATUE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—There will be received soon on the battlefield of Gettysburg a heroic bronze figure of the late Very Rev. William Corby, C. S. C., chaplain of the 88th regiment, New York infantry, who was the principal figure in a dramatic incident in the famous battle.

On July 3, 1863, the second brigade, first division, second corps, was ordered to move to the support of the left wing of the Union army, which was then sustaining a desperate attack.

Just before the brigade, which was known as the Irish brigade, took up its line of march, the priest mounted a great boulder not far away from the bloody angle and calling on the brigade to kneel, and for each man to make his act of contrition, he gave to those Catholic soldiers a general absolution. The scene was witnessed by many soldiers who still survive.

The statue is being modeled in this city.

Put your perfectly well arm in splints or a plaster cast and leave it a comparatively short time—You lose the use of your arm—Same with your eyes—

If one eye has poor vision that eye will grow weaker and weaker in vision.

Hardly a week passes but some one comes to us and discovers that he has waited too long—A man said to us the other day "If I had known as a child what I now know about my eyes it would have saved me untold suffering besides hundreds of dollars."—

Better be sure than sorry—as long as there's sight there's hope—See us about that little eye trouble now.—

BILLY SUNDAY TO HOLD REVIVAL SERVICES IN FRESNO

May Come Here in March in Six Weeks' Series of Big Daily Meetings.

International Missionary Conference Subject of Sermon Tomorrow.

"Billy" Sunday, the noted evangelist, may hold a series of revival meetings here for a period of a month or six weeks, probably commencing next March or April, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Thomas Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The nature of the campaign against sin that Mr. Sunday will wage has not been announced, but it is believed that he will show the same strenuous spirit on the platform that he has shown elsewhere. Sunday is a well-known ball player, having been one of the Baltimore Orioles, when that team was one of the prominent ball clubs of the country.

"I saw Mr. Sunday at the great Chautauqua meeting at Winona Lake, near Chicago," remarked Dr. Boyd yesterday, "and he told me there that we probably could expect him in March or April, as he hopes to be out this way at that time.

"The meetings here will be held every afternoon and evening, and will continue for a month or six weeks. His coming here, of course, would be at the invitation of the Ministerial Association here."

TO TELL OF MISSIONS.

Dr. Boyd, who has just returned from a trip abroad, attended the great ecumenical missionary conference at Edinburgh last June. The conference was an interdenominational meeting of representatives of the missionary movement from all parts of the world.

In his sermon Sunday morning Dr. Boyd will speak of the conference, and give a general report of the meeting which a few months ago occupied a prominent place in the interdenominational press despatches.

DANISH CONVENTION MEETS IN OCTOBER

Round of Entertainments Planned for Delegates and Guests.

With another meeting next week of the general committee of arrangements of which Martin Madsen is the chairman, the program of entertainment will be definitely settled for the quadrennial national convention of the National Brotherhood to be held in this city for five days and opening on the 3rd of October.

The last previously held convention was held at Council Bluffs, and the expectation is that the quadrennial will bring to Fresno about 285 delegates from all parts of the United States where the Danes are located in numbers and have brotherhood lodges. The total attendance wit guests and friends and relatives of the delegates will be betwen 1,000 and 1,200.

The first convention business session will be held on the morning of Monday, the third, at Armory Hall, where all sessions will be held. Business sessions will consume the forenoons and it is planned to devote the afternoons and evenings to pleasure and entertainment. The ladies will meet in A. O. U. W. hall and fraternities meeting there have given up their lodge nights for the week.

The entertainments will comprise a public reception including a welcome in behalf of the city by Mayor Rowell, nearby points of interest, a general reception night by the Danish Colony, with entertainment by the ladies, a convention ball and a convention banquet. For the housing of the expected guests arrangements have been made in hotels and private houses.

The grand officers of the brotherhood, all of whom are expected to be at the convention are: President, H. H. Vogt of Davenport; vice president, Martin Lasen of Racine, Wis.; secretary, J. Nichaelsen of Omaha, and trustees: Henry Gydesen of St. Paul, Fred Peterson of Council Bluffs, and T. P. Nielsen of Seattle.

CONFIRMS CHARGES OF UNDERWEIGHING

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Patrick J. Quigley, a former customs weigher, testifying today in the customs underweighing trial, declared that while employed on the Arbuckle docks in Brooklyn from 1905 to 1907 he had repeatedly participated in underweighing operations. Quigley testified that his fee for passing the importations was "from $50 to $150 per shipment."

JOBBERS IN BEAR GAME; TIME TO HOLD PRICE

UP TO THE GROWERS

Fresno Home Puts Out Circular Pointing Out Raisins' Strength.

"It is strictly up to the growers. This is the crucial time in the raisin game this year, and there is no doubt that, if the growers just keep their shirts on for the next two weeks, they will get 3½ cents or better through the season for their goods."

That is the way a leading grower expressed the present situation in discussing the market yesterday.

It is felt by those best in touch with the situation that the attitude of the first hand jobbers right now will decide everything. Predictions are made that, if the growers hold now for 3½ cents hard, the crop will probably clean up at something like 4 cents.

A leading reason advanced for all this is the fact that the crop has matured early this year, and this has worked in the interest of the jobber who wants to bear the game.

Many jobbers, it is stated, some weeks ago took a chance in speculating on the game, and sold short for fall delivery. Now, it is naturally the game of these men to appear careless about buying until they are forced into it. That is one of the most effective means that is used for bearing the market.

JOBBERS MANIPULATE.

The fact that the crop ripened and is being cured some ten days earlier than usual makes it possible for the jobbers to assume this waiting attitude for about two weeks longer than usual after the crop is ready for delivery. In the average year, it is time for the goods to move along to supply the holiday trade as soon as cured. But this is not the case this season, as late September or nearly October shipments will be in time for Thanksgiving buying. Hence, the jobber, it is declared, banking on the usual desire of the grower to sell his crop when it is ready for delivery, is holding off in an effort to bear things.

That this sort of thing cannot last more than ten days or two weeks longer, and that the growers should hold stiffly for 3½ cents during that period above all other times, is the opinion held by representative growers now. The jobber has to buy yet to cover holiday requirements, and he will very shortly have to buy at the growers' own price, provided the grower makes a stand for it, especially considering a crop shortage possibly as high as 33 per cent, is the gist of the opinion reached during an informal discussion of the question by some leading Fresnans yesterday.

CIRCULAR SHOWS STRENGTH.

The attitude is further borne out by the following circular being distributed East by the Fresno Home Packing Company:

"To our representatives:

"With the 1910 raisin crop showing fully 20 to 25 per cent short, and the chances of unfavorable curing weather to contend with, we consider it opportune at this time to call your attention to a few pertinent facts in connection with future prices.

"First—Jobbers throughout the country have permitted their stocks to run to 'low ebb'; likewise the retails, even in the face of a heavy consumptive demand.

"Second—General conditions throughout the country are most favorable for an extra large consumption, and greatly strengthened by reason of the shortage in the Middle West and Eastern fruit crop.

"Third—The shortage in the Turkish and Spanish crops has called forth a heavy export demand, increasing in volume every day, and much greater than ever before known; with every indication, especially on the seedless varieties, of a full 25 per cent of the 1910 crop being sold export.

"Fourth—With jobbers and retailers awakening to the situation, and now coming in with an urgent demand for their future requirements, and, likewise, producers in California being fully conversant with the situation existing, and advancing their prices rapidly, we can only see one trend to the issue—steadily advancing prices, until the entire output is sold.

"At the present writing we offer, subject to confirmation, and subject to withdrawal without notice, November shipment as follows:

Fancy No. 16 Blue Ribbon Seeded, 6¼c
Fancy No. 12 Palmetto Seeded, 5¾c
Choice No. 16 Red Ribbon Seeded, 5¾c
Choice No. 12 White Ribbon Seeded, 4¾c
4 Crown close Muscatels, 50 pound boxes, 5¾c
3 Crown loose Muscatels, 50 pound boxes, 4¾c
2 Crown loose Muscatels, 50 pound boxes, 4¼c
Seedless Muscatels, 50 pound boxes boxen, 3¾c
Thompson Seedless, 50 pound boxes, 4¾c
Purple Ribbon No. 16 cartons, re-cleaned Thompson Seedless, 5¾c
Green Ribbon No. 16 cartons, re-cleaned Seedless Muscatels, 4¾c

"In conclusion, gentlemen, considering the general retail prices to the consumer, the above quotations permit of a handsome profit to both retailer and jobber, and we strongly advise our trade to get in now, and do it quick, before we are compelled to make further advances.

"Your truly,

HAWSON TO REMAIN AS CHURCHES DEPUTY

Frank A. Curtin Faces Disappointment When He Returns From New York.

District Attorney Church having returned from Crane Valley confirms the statement that Deputy District Attorney Hawson will probably remain in the office in view of his having withdrawn from his congressional candidacy. Mr. Hawson was to have resigned from the office on the 15th and Frank A. Curtin with Sutherland & Barbour was to have succeeded him. Mr. Church says that Curtin's selection was with the understanding that Mr. Hawson might remain in or return to the deputyship if for any reason he was placed in a position that he could not follow up his campaign. Mr. Curtin is expected home this week, having gone to New York on a month's visit to relatives after his selection for the then prospective vacancy in the deputyship.

Boys' Knickerbocker Suits With Two Pair of Trousers $4.50

That's a big feature here—giving two pair of knickerbocker trousers in a boy's suit from 6 to 16 yrs.—the price at most stores is considerably higher for a suit with two pair of trousers—but our maker is considered one of the best operators in New York. He buys his fabrics in quantities, he employs hundreds of high class makers, his factory is modern, equipped with high power electric machines—everything that goes to lessen the cost of the suit to the consumer is watched carefully—hence we underbuy and undersell.

Guaranteed Suits for Boys With Two Pair of Knicker Trousers $6.00

The maker is most anxious for us to advertise the fact that he will replace any of his garments free of charge if they in any way prove defective.

The patterns in these $6.00 suits are the kind that you find in young men's snappy clothes at much higher prices.
